PAYMENT AUTHORIZED TO THE CONNELL BOY.

Lawton Introduces Act to Prevent Misleading of Workmen.

Republican House Leader Presents Property Qualification Bill.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 4.—Newport was interested in the legislature today, in the passage of the act permitting the city to settle damages for injuries done the Connell boy by being struck by Truck 1, and the introduction of an act for the protection of workmen from being misled into becoming strike breakers.

While the Republicans have been defeating the persistent efforts of the Democrats to secure legislation to remove the property qualifications in this state, the Republican leader of the house today introduced an act for this purpose and it is said that it will go through, that the party may gain the credit for this legislation. The Democratic acts for this purpose have not even been considered by the committee on special legislation, to which they were referred.

In the senate the house resolution appropriating $158,436 30 to settle the deficit of last year was received back from the finance committee with recommendation of concurrence. Calendar.

The judiciary committee reported back the Providence milk act with recommendation of passage Calendar.

Senator McKenna of Cumberland introduced an act to regulate the temperature and humidity in textile establishments. Judiciary committee.

Senator Pierce of Warwick introduced an amendment to the divorce laws, which provides for execution for the payment of allowances to run against real estate as well as goods, chattels and persons. Judiciary committee.

He also introduced two school acts one to increase the allowance which may be made by the school commissioner to towns for schools, and the other to make the minimum pay of teachers $500. Both went to the committee on education.

Senator Munroe of Providence introduced an amendment to the drug laws better to guard against poisoning. It provides that liquid poisons be placed in triangular bottles and powders in bright red boxes. Committee on public health.

Senator Bennett of Woonsocket introduced a bill to make the salary of the inspector of beef and pork $800 a year. Committee on finance. A similar proposition was defeated last year.

An act permitting East Providence to issue $150,000 in bonds for school purposes was referred to the judiciary committee.

Governor Pothier has received the annual reports of the police commissions of Cumberland and Warwick, the dental board and the bird commissioners.

In the house Mr Lawton of Newport introduced an act which would require advertisements in newspapers for help, when a strike is in progress, to have inserted in them "Strike Pending," that innocent parties may not be misled into accepting positions as strike breakers. He said he introduced the act at the request of labor organizations. Committee on labor legislation.

Mr. Sumner of Providence, the Republican leader, introduced an act abolishing the property qualification for voters. This is a treatment of the subject as the majority leaders would have it. Referred to the committee on special legislation.

Mr. Mulvaney of Providence introduced a resolution calling for a special committee to examine into the advisability of establishing a textile school in Providence Committee on education.

Mr. Saunders of Cranston offered a resolution calling for an appropriation of $1,000 for the rental of quarters for the Eighth District court, and Mr. Dion of Central Falls a similar resolution for $1,600 for five years' rent for the Eleventh district court. Both went to the committee on accounts and claims.

Mr Alelo offered an act for the regulation of the sale of furniture on the instalment plan. Judiciary committee.

Mr Eaton of Providence offered a resolution to pay $200 for the fitting up of the gymnasium at the Providence state armory. Finance committee.

Mr. West of Providence made his daily motion to relieve the committee on special legislation from further consideration of the property qualification act, and as usual it was voted down by a party vote. He made a similar motion relative to the constitutional amendments, which received like treatment.

Mr. Owen of Providence introduced a resolution providing for the payment of $4,500 to the commissioners on the erection of the Westerly court house. Finance committee.

From the calendar were taken and passed an act allowing Woonsocket to issue $500,000 worth of bonds and the act allowing Newport to pay a few hundred dollars to the Connell boy, for the expenses incident to the injuries he suffered when struck by Truck 1 in answering an alarm of fire. Mr. White of East Greenwich did not like the wording of the act and jokingly said it looked as if the company had struck the boy, and so offered an amendment which failed to pass. Mr. Sullivan of Newport made a long explanation of the case and the act passed.

RIGHT TO SHIP ARMS ACROSS LINE EXTENDED.

Wilson's Proclamation Raises Embargo on Ammunition.

Mexican Border Patrol May Now Relax Vigilance to Some Extent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The right to ship arms and ammunition across the American boundary into Mexico through the regular channels of commerce today was extended to both the forces of the Huerta government and the Constitutionalists, a situation unprecedented since the first outbreak of internal hostilities in that republic in November, 1910. Instructions went forth to customs agents of the American government along the border, as well as to the army officers in charge of the border patrol, notifying them of the proclamation by President Wilson raising the embargo on arms.

The border patrol, insofar as it has been preventing the smuggling of arms, may now relax its vigilance to some extent, though its service still will be required to prevent marauding bands from crossing the international line, and to keep armed combatants from moving back and forth from one country into the other.

The status of the arms question is unlike any situation that has hitherto existed, though its operations will resemble more closely than anything else the state of affairs existing before the joint resolution of Congress of March 14, 1912, was put into effect Whereas the United States, at that time permitted consignments of arms to pass through at those customs houses held by the regularly constituted government, it allowed no shipments through other ports of entry, even though occupied for months by revolutionary forces. The rebels hold most of the customs houses on the Mexican side of the international line. The Federals still occupy such points as Neuva Laredo and Piedras Negras, but the rebels now can ship arms without molestation through Brownsville, Texas, to Matamoras, from Presidio, Texas, to Ojinaga, and from El Paso to Juarez, as well as at such important points as Douglas and Nogales.

Whether every shipment of arms would have to be preceded by a permit from the State Department, as has been the case in exceptions to the joint resolution of March 14, 1912, or whether the proclamation issued by the President would merely restore the status of regular consignments through recognized ports of entry, was a phase of the situation which it was expected would soon be worked out by government officials.

The disposition of a large quantity of ammunition seized on the border, destined for the rebels, also is to be decided by officials of the Treasury and Department of Justice.

No orders for the withdrawal of United States troops from the border will be issued by the War Department unless recommendations are made by Brigadier General Bliss, in command there. Secretary Garrison said today that while he supposed the duties of the troops would be considerably lessened, he could not say positively that fewer soldiers would be needed, because he was not entirely familiar with the details of the situation. There might be scattered situations that needed such watching, he said, that would render it impossible to withdraw any of the troops now.

The Secretary has notified General Bliss of the lifting of the embargo.

President Wilson's proclamation will not affect prosecution of persons indicted for violation of former President Taft's order. Attorney General McReynolds decided today that where Federal grand juries have returned indictments for violation of the Taft proclamation and the neutrality laws the case shall be prosecuted Where arrests have been made, but no indictments found to date, further action is not contemplated.

"DROPS THE FALSE MASK."

El Pais Says Wilson Becomes Friend and Protector of the Rebels.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 4.—"President Wilson has dropped the false mask of the Puritan and declared himself the friend and protector of the rebels," is the seven-column head-line placed by El Pais over its account of President Wilson's action in raising the embargo on the exportation from the United States to Mexico of arms and munitions of war. The newspaper declares that President Wilson's motive, while alleged to be based on a high pretext of neutrality, originates in reality in commercial interests. It continues: "It was known that European and Japanese factories were turning out war materials for the Mexican government, similar establishments in the United States were dissatisfied, and brought pressure to bear on the government at Washington to put an end to the embargo and not block their business."

The article continues: "The humanitarianism of President Wilson has been put aside to make way for mercantilism. The worthy Yankee believes that everything in life should be reduced to dollars and cents. He could not bear to see pass without profiting such a propitious opportunity to give us what he surely believes to be a decisive blow. It is the first step of the Yankees toward our frontier. Afterwards will come intervention. The phantom grows more distinct beyond the Rio Grande."

El Pais then calls on the Mexican people to have faith in the good Mexicans and in the government of Huerta, declaring: "The only thing that President Wilson will accomplish will be to place in bold relief the figure of Victoriano Huerta who, due to American intrigues, symbolizes today on this continent the soul of the Latin race."

El Imparcial, under the head-line, "President Wilson declares himself barefacedly and opprobriously the accomplice of bandits," says it can hardly credit the news that "The Yankee government" permits the

CLAIMS TAXES WERE ILLEGALLY ASSESSED.

Case of Horgan vs. City Treasurer Before Supreme Court.

Really Brought by the Savings Bank, Which Paid Under Protest.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 4.—The case of P. H. Horgan vs. John M. Taylor, city treasurer of Newport, was submitted by briefs to the full bench of the supreme court this morning, those for the plaintiff being signed by Clark Burdick, attorney, and that for City Treasurer Taylor by Jeremiah A. Sullivan, city solicitor The court took the matter under advisement.

The petitioner seeks to recover $957 82 2-3, taxes for 1906 and 1907, paid, it is claimed, under protest. His brief contends that no specific dates for the assessment of the taxes were set by the City Council or by the tax assessors, that the payment was involuntary and under compulsion, and that it matters not whether the protest was specific or not.

The defendant's brief urged that the taxes were legal, that no protest was made, that the dates for the assessment and collection of the taxes were made by the City Council and the assessors gave notice by public advertisement of their intention to assess the taxes and named certain dates on which they would be in session and ready to hear any taxpayer regarding his taxes.

The action grew out of the collection of taxes for 1906 and 1907 by Collector Higbee. The Savings Bank paid the taxes under protest, and later made a claim for the return of $957.82 2-3 for taxes of 1906 and 1907, claiming that the taxes for those years were irregularly and illegally assessed because no date had been set for the assessment. The claim for this money was made to the Council at its meeting August 4, 1910, in the form of a petition from P. H. Horgan for the refunding of a tax. This was referred to the assessors and later was refused by the Council Hence the suit to recover. The tax having been paid under protest, the Savings Bank had the right to go to law over it.

It is the Savings Bank and not Mr. Horgan who is really the plaintiff in this case, though Mr. Horgan's name appears.

The case went to the supreme court on an agreed statement of facts prepared by City Solicitor Sullivan and Mr. Burdick, the latter representing the bank. There is no question about the facts. The date at which the tax would be assessed was not fixed in the advertisement, only the days when the assessors would hold public hearings. The custom for years had been thus to advertise and to assess the tax as of the day following the final hearing.

This matter, in some form or other, has been before the supreme court about 10 times and there have been decisions both ways, depending evidently on some minor point. One of the cases was a Newport suit, McAdam vs Honey, and both the city and the bank quote this. In one of the cases the court held that an advertisement similar to the one in question in this instance was ample under the law. The advertisement was similar to those in use for some years and considered all right. Since the question has been raised, however, a date has been fixed in the notices as the date for assessing the tax

This is the fourth date for which this case was assigned this year other matters preventing its presentation before

DEMOCRATS OPPOSED.

RIGHT TO SHIP ARMS ACROSS LINE EXTENDED.

Wilson's Proclamation Raises Embargo on Ammunition.

Mexican Border Patrol May Now Relax Vigilance to Some Extent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The right to ship arms and ammunition across the American boundary into Mexico through the regular channels of commerce today was extended to both the forces of the Huerta government and the Constitutionalists, a situation unprecedented since the first outbreak of internal hostilities in that republic in November, 1910. PROVIDENCE, Feb. 4.—The case of P. H. Horgan vs. John M. Taylor, city treasurer of Newport, was submitted by briefs to the full bench of the supreme court this morning, those for the plaintiff being signed by Clark Burdick, attorney, and that for City Treasurer Taylor by Jeremiah A. Sullivan, city solicitor. The court took the matter under advisement.

The petitioner seeks to recover $957.82 2-3, taxes for 1906 and 1907, paid, it is claimed, under protest. His brief contends that no specific dates for the assessment of the taxes were set by the City Council or by the tax assessors, that the payment was involuntary and under compulsion, and that it matters not whether the protest was specific or not.

The defendant's brief urged that the taxes were legal, that no protest was made, that the dates for the assessment and collection of the taxes were made by the City Council and the assessors gave notice by public advertisement of their intention to assess the taxes and named certain dates on which they would be in session and ready to hear any taxpayer regarding his taxes.

The action grew out of the collection of taxes for 1906 and 1907 by Collector Higbee. The Savings Bank paid the taxes under protest, and later made a claim for the return of $957.82 2-3 for taxes of 1906 and 1907, claiming that the taxes for those years were irregularly and illegally assessed because no date had been set for the assessment. The claim for this money was made to the Council at its meeting August 4, 1910, in the form of a petition from P. H. Horgan for the refunding of a tax. This was referred to the assessors and later was refused by the Council. Hence the suit to recover. The tax having been paid under protest, the Savings Bank had the right to go to law over it.

It is the Savings Bank and not Mr. Horgan who is really the plaintiff in this case, though Mr. Horgan's name appears.

The case went to the supreme court on an agreed statement of facts prepared by City Solicitor Sullivan and Mr. Burdick, the latter representing the bank. There is no question about the facts. The date at which the tax would be assessed was not fixed in the advertisement, only the days when the assessors would hold public hearings. The custom for years had been thus to advertise and to assess the tax as of the day following the final hearing.

This matter, in some form or other, has been before the supreme court about 10 times and there have been decisions both ways, depending evidently on some minor point. One of the cases was a Newport suit, Mc. Adam vs. Honey, and both the city and the bank quote this. In one of the cases the court held that an advertisement similar to the one in question in this instance was ample under the law. The advertisement was similar to those in use for some years and considered all right. Since the question has been raised, however, a date has been fixed in the notices as the date for assessing the tax.

This is the fourth date for which this case was assigned this year other matters preventing its presentation before.

Low Death Rate Sets New Health Record for Great Summer Resort.

Hobble Skirts for Women Prisoners—A Religious Cabaret—Bananas Grow in Central Park

[Correspondence of the News]

Feb 3—New York celebrated justly as "the greatest summer resort in the world" is now waking up to the fact that this city may also claim to be the greatest health resort in the world Learned and famous authorities have been preaching time out of mind that the "ceaseless rush and the restless turmoil of Gotham was taking years of the lives of its citizens The facts for the year 1913 give the New Yorker a chance to think somewhat better of his city There were 73 901 deaths here last year or more than the population of Charleston Savannah or Portland, Maine But these represented a death rate of only 13 76 deaths for every thousand of population That is a lower rate than that of any country of Europe lower than the average death rate of the ten states of the United States which keep records, and is beaten only by Vermont, Michigan Maine and Indiana. In these states the majority of the population live in the rural districts where the death rate is supposed to be much lower than in the cities But New York the "Big Town, beats even the country districts at their own game for the death rate of the rural districts of all the ten states is 15 20 per thousand Apparently then, by moving from the country to New York a man betters his chance of dodging the grim reaper by nearly 10 per cent The average death rate in the registration cities of America, or all cities where the records are published is 18 67 per thousand so that moving to New York from another city means apparently a 26 per cent better chance.

A curious fact about the figures is that, while the city must have grown in population since 1912 the number of births deaths and marriages were all smaller than last year The decrease was in each case very slight The number of births 13 154 was not quite twice the number of deaths and was 521 short of the 1912 record Marriages numbered 51 207 or 436 below the number in 1912 So that it would seem that any unmarried person who is thinking of moving to town to lengthen his life would better keep in mind that the chances of finding a mate are shrinking somewhat.

Low Death Rate Sets New Health Record for Great Summer Resort.

Hobble Skirts for Women Prisoners—A Religious Cabaret—Bananas Grow in Central Park.

(Correspondence of the News.)

Feb. 3.—New York, celebrated justly as "the greatest summer resort in the world," is now waking up to the fact that this city may also claim to be the greatest health resort in the world. Learned and famous authorities have been preaching time out of mind that the "ceaseless rush" and the "restless turmoil" of Gotham was taking years of the lives of its citizens. The facts for the year 1913 give the New Yorker a chance to think somewhat better of his city. There were 73,901 deaths here last year, or more than the population of Charleston, Savannah, or Portland, Maine. But these represented a death rate of only 13.76 deaths for every thousand of population. That is a lower rate than that of any country of Europe, lower than the average death rate of the ten states of the United States which keep records, and is beaten only by Vermont, Michigan, Maine and Indiana. In these states the majority of the population live in the rural districts, where the death rate is supposed to be much lower than in the cities. But New York, the "Big Town," beats even the country districts at their own game, for the death rate of the rural districts of all the ten states is 16.20 per thousand. Apparently, then, by moving from the country to New York a man betters his chance of dodging the grim reaper by nearly 10 per cent. The average death rate in the "registration" cities of America, or all cities where the records are published, is 18.57 per thousand, so that moving to New York from another city means, apparently, a 26 per cent better chance.

A curious fact about the figures is that, while the city must have grown in population since 1912, the number of births, deaths and marriages were all smaller than last year. The decrease was in each case very slight. The number of births, 135,134, was not quite twice the number of deaths, and was 521 short of the 1912 record. Marriages numbered 51,267, or 436 below the number in 1912. So that it would seem that any unmarried person, who is thinking of moving to town to lengthen his life, would better keep in mind that the chances of finding a mate are shrinking somewhat.

New York's women prisoners are to be dressed in hobble skirts. Needless to say, it was a woman who made that rule. Miss Katherine Bement Davis, the new commissioner of charities and who is the first woman to hold so high an office under the city, has full charge of all New York's prisons, and the result of her first day's inspection, was to issue the order reforming the women's dress. Other reforms will follow. Miss Davis has promised but the question of clothes comes first.

"You can't help a woman who looks like a mattress," Miss Davis said. "These horrible dresses of bed-ticking which the prisoners are forced to wear are enough to shame the soul out of any woman. We shall have them put into gingham at once. And the cut of these dresses is shameful. It's years since it was the fashion to wear such full skirts. The gingham will cost more, but we won't need so much of it, and it will be well worth the money in the added self respect it will give our people." Miss Davis ought to know what she is talking about, as she was formerly the head of the Bedford Reformatory for Women, a state institution which is said to have saved more girls from the life of the streets than any other organization in the world.

To teach men the way to better things by a cabaret show and lead them to salvation by the tango is the somewhat novel scheme which the Salvation Army has tried in its new "religious cabaret" in Jersey City just across the Hudson. New York has always poked fun at Jersey City but this time it is admitted, even along Broadway, that credit must be given. No religious cabaret has yet been heard from among Manhattan's white lights. The Salvation Army is much in earnest about the new plan. The army's best song writers have been working hard fitting earnest, soul-lifting words to the latest ragtime tunes. The theory of the new cabaret is that the down-and-out usually owes his degradation to drink.

"You've got to give them something to take the place of booze," an officer said, "and the best thing for that is a real good time; singing and live, up-to-date amusement. Some people have complained that we are doing wrong in setting sacred words to the popular tunes of the day. These people probably never know that the hymn tune 'Coronation' or 'Crown Him Lord of All' was originally sung to the words:

"Come, come, my jolly, hearty boys
And drink while drink ye can;
'Tis on the ground we soon must roll
With whiskey every man."

New York city has farms, fisheries, creameries and county fairs, all within its spacious borders, but a city official who took his place with the new administration has discovered a product which he had never suspected could be brought forth hereabouts. Cabot Ward the city's new park commissioner, was making his first visit to the offices in the arsenal at Central Park when a group of attendants came in carrying a huge bunch of red bananas. They were ripe and not too hard and ready to eat; the commissioner sampled one and found that it was good. They were not a gift from any friendly collector or steamship line, but were grown, the commissioner learned, in the Central Park greenhouses. The bananas were weighed, counted, and then by order of the new commissioner the bunch was sent off to a hospital where the patients were treated with tropical fruit. Home grown and home picked by the servants of the most cosmopolitan city in the world. The Central Park greenhouses also grow lemons, it is said, but there is a custom which prohibits the attendants from handing these to their superior officers.

It would take a remarkably good housekeeper to care for such an outfit of silverware as has recently been purchased here. Sixty-seven thousand pieces, made on special patterns for a special and exacting customer, were turned out last year by the biggest silver manufacturing concern in the world. The order was so large that the company's hotel silver department was given up to this one job for the entire year. The hotel which gave this remarkable order was opened the first of 1914, and by this time a good part of the ware has seen real service. For every dining room a special different pattern of forks, knives, covers and what-not was ordered. So careful were the designers to have everything exactly right that they consulted with the architects of the building and the decorators of the rooms where they were to appear. One service of several thousand pieces will supply 500 diners with silver of exactly the same pattern. There is also a special service in gold for 50 persons.

MORGAN ART OPENING.

Collection in New Wing of Metropolitan Museum.

The opening of the Morgan collection at the Metropolitan Museum of Art will follow a reception to members and their friends on the evening of February 17. On the next day the exhibition will be opened to the public.

The work of placing the collection is fast nearing completion. The objects of art are to be shown in the new north wing addition it. One part of the work in preparing the collection for exhibition was the necessity of duplicating a room in the London house of the late financier, to accommodate the 14 Fragonard panels said to have been originally executed for Mme. Du Barry. Mr. Morgan had made such a stipulation when he decided on their exhibition in the museum.

At the Waists in our window today will be enough to start you for our waist department, where you will find awaiting you the daintiest, freshest collection of Lingerie Waists you have ever had the pleasure to look upon.

The new Voile Waists with pretty embroidery and snowy ruffles are the very latest call of fashion. No style of recent seasons has met with such success as this and no more becoming style has yet been produced. The fine quality of the materials used, the new drop shoulders, ruffled fronts, ruffled sleeves, and all over embroideries all combine to make a wonderful line of waists at a wonderfully low price.

Here is one of the styles we feature. A picture cannot do justice to the effect of this waist when worn. All over embroidery with roning collar, ruffled sleeves, etc.

Another style we feature is a beautiful model of soft crepe with silk stripe in blue, lavender, pink, etc., on white ground. This waist embodies all the latest ideas in waist design together with a clever blending of soft colors.

We might go on and on giving you a detailed description of the new waists we are showing today, but we prefer to have you see for yourself what quality and distinctiveness can be purchased at such a small cost.

And now we come to the price which should rightly come after the quality is considered. For all of the above waists the price is

New England's Finest

In the mill towns and the big cities, down in the ship-filled harbors, back in the granite hills, everywhere you'll find thousands of sturdy, strapping New Englanders smoking famous old Mayo's Cut Plug tobacco.

It's the same rich, sweet, satisfying Mayo's that their fathers and grandfathers smoked, and they get the same healthful satisfaction out of it all year 'round. Mayo's has plenty of "body" and taste, yet smokes cool and pleasant—it's man's tobacco.

Mayo's Cut Plug

Mayo's is ripe, mellow Kentucky Burley, aged up to five years to bring out the richness and sweetness. It has been made in the same factory, by the same people, for over 40 years. That's why Mayo's quality is always the same—"always good."

Just give Mayo's a week's trial, and you'll agree with us. Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

BATS INCREASE LEAD.

Basket Ball Encounter With the Cranes Won After Hard Struggle.

The Bats further increased their short lead over the Cranes in the Employed Boys' League at the Young Men's Christian Association Tuesday evening, when they won the basket ball encounter between these teams after a hard struggle. The Hawks performed in their usual manner, losing to both the Bats and the Cranes in basket ball. The standing shows the Bats in the lead with 183 points, the Cranes next with 174 1-3, while the Hawks are a poor last with only 40 points.

The first game, between the Bats and the Cranes, was the most exciting contest of the evening, the Bats winning after an even struggle, 4-1. Luck appeared to be against the Cranes, who missed several seemingly sure shots, while one of the two baskets made by the Bats was registered on a long throw. Thompson and Dillon did the scoring for the Bats, while Olivea and Dillon played the best games for the Cranes. The line-up and summary:

| Bats. | Cranes. |
|---|---|
| Thompson, r. f. | l. g., Watson |
| Hull l. f. | r. g., Dillon |
| Peckham, c. | c., Russell |
| Sullivan, r. g. | l. f., Olivea |
| Bliss, l. g. | r. f., Jestings |

Score—Bats 4, Cranes 1. Goals from floor—Thompson, Bliss. Goal from foul line—Olivea. Referee—Slocum. Time—One 10-minute half.

The Hawks then threw a scare into the Bats, when the latter were able to win only by a 7-4 score, following a stiff battle. Thompson in his new position at forward again proved to be the mainstay of the Bats, dropping in five of the seven points made. Ladyman scored all the points for his quintet. The line-up and summary follow:

| Bats | Hawks |
|---|---|
| Thompson, r. f. | l. g., Tarr |
| Hull, l. f. | r. g., Devlin |
| Peckham, c. | c., Quill |
| Delaney r. g. | l. f., Larson |
| Holm, l. g. | r. f., Ladyman |

Score—Bats 7, Hawks 4. Goals from floor—Thompson 2, Peckham; Ladyman 2. Goal from foul line—Thompson. Referee—Slocum. Time—One 10-minute half.

With three new players in their line-up the Cranes had it easy with the Hawks, whom they defeated 11-3. As in the other game the Hawks played Ladyman secured all their points, and had it not been for his general good work the Cranes' score might have been much larger. Olivea and Olson excelled for the Cranes. Line-up and summary:

| Cranes | Hawks |
|---|---|
| Jestings r. f. | l. g., Tarr |
| Olivea, l. f. | r. g., Devlin |
| Olson, c. | c., Quill |
| Braley, r. g. | l. f., Larsen |
| Gerard, l. g. | r. f., Ladyman |

Score—Cranes 11, Hawks 3. Goals from floor—Olivea 2, Jestings, Olson 2, Ladyman. Goals from foul line—Olivea; Ladyman. Referee—Slocum. Time—One 10-minute half.

In a dish beat slightly the whites of three small eggs, then stir in one-half pound of sifted powdered sugar, the chopped nuts, a pinch of salt a level tablespoonful of flour and one scant teaspoonful baking powder. Drop by the half teaspoonful an inch apart, on flat buttered pans and bake in a moderate oven.

Hot Cream Puffs, Chocolate Sauce

Make the puffs or buy the unfilled ones. Mix together two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one tablespoonful flour, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of sugar and three well beaten eggs add one-quarter cupful of cold milk, beat well and turn quickly into two cupfuls and a half of milk, scalding in a double boiler. Stir vigorously until thick and smooth, then cover and cook 15 minutes stirring occasionally. Take half out in a bowl and keep hot until needed, then stir in one scant teaspoonful of vanilla and one-half cupful of chopped nuts and fill the puffs, which have been warmed in the open oven. To the cream remaining in the double boiler add one square of chocolate grated and melted over hot water, then mixed with two-thirds of a cupful of hot milk. Take from the fire, stir in a half teaspoonful of vanilla and serve separately.

ROYAL
The world-wide standard
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder and its use is more economical than other leavening agents, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Cheap baking powders, containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or advertised as pure and wholesome. Such mixtures are not desirable for food ingredients. Most persons have learned to their sorrow that a low price does not always mean economy. This is especially so in a food article. No baking powder can properly be substituted for Royal.

Read the ingredient clause upon the label. If it does not show "Cream of Tartar," don't buy the powder.

EIGHT O'CLOCK.

[Margaret Widdemer, in St. Nicholas.]

Of all the things the clock can say,
The one I do not like
Is "eight o'clock" that, twice a day,
The clocks and bells all strike

For eight is "time-for-school," you know,
And eight is "time-for-bed";
And, when it strikes, you have to go—
There's nothing to be said.

Sometimes it's "circuses" at two
And sometimes "matinee,"
And three o'clock is "school-is-through,"
And four o'clock is "play."

And five o'clock and nine, and ten,
Eleven o'clock and one,
Why, nice "perhaps-things" happen then—
("Perhaps" is always fun).

And twelve and six go very fast,
With "things-upon-a-plate,"
But soon as seven hurries past,
You hear the clock strike eight!

So when I'm grown and have my say,
And help to make things go,
I'm going to take the "eight" away
From every clock I know!

FANCIES.

"Will you be one of the Whistler group
At our artist's fete?" they wrote.
"I'd like to very much," she replied,
"But I cannot whistle a note."
—[Boston Transcript.

There is quite a difference between being good and being known as a good thing.—[Philadelphia Record.

Bridegroom—Good-bye, darling. I hate to leave you, but I simply must run down and attend to the furnace.—[Life.

"Dining in a restaurant, eh?"
"Yes," replied the patient man.
"Cook's day out?"
"Day out! No, indeed! It's the cook's day for receiving."—[Washington Star.

He—May I kiss you?
She—Certainly. But will you first kindly step into that antiseptic cabinet for five minutes?—[Life.

Poly—Is yours a select neighborhood?
Poly—I should say it was! On one block we've six limousines, four Pekinese pups and one baby carriage.—[Judge.

Gibbs—There's one thing I'd like very much to find out about myself.
Dibbs—What is that?
Gibbs—Whether or not I could stand prosperity.—[Boston Transcript.

Silicus—I would never marry a jealous woman.
Cynicus—Neither would I. A woman who is jealous is almost as bad as one who isn't.—[Philadelphia Record.

"Then," said the man who was preparing the sketch, "I shall say that you first saw life in the little village of Backwoodsville—"
"No," said Mr. Selfmade, "I was born there. But I didn't see any life till I came to New York."—[Puck.

"You go to hear music that you don't understand?"
"Yes," admitted Mr. Cumrox.
"And pay good money for it?"
"Well, I pay good money for an income tax that I don't understand, either."—[Washington Star.

BATS INCREASE LEAD.

Basket Ball Encounter With the Cranes Won After Hard Struggle.

The Bats further increased their short lead over the Cranes in the Employed Boys' League at the Young Men's Christian Association Tuesday evening, when they won the basket ball encounter between these teams after a hard struggle. The Hawks performed in their usual manner, losing to both the Bats and the Cranes in basket ball. The standing shows the Bats in the lead with 193 points, the Cranes next with 174 1-2, while the Hawks are a poor last with only 43 points.

The first game, between the Bats and the Cranes, was the most exciting contest of the evening, the Bats winning after an even struggle, 4-1. Luck appeared to be against the Cranes, who missed several seemingly sure shots, while one of the two baskets made by the Bats was registered on a long throw. Thompson and Dillon led the scoring for the Bats, while Olivea and Dillon played the best games for the Cranes. The line-up and summary:

| Bats. | Cranes. |
|---|---|
| Thompson, r. f. | l. g., Watson |
| Hull, l. f. | r. g., Dillon |
| Peckham, c. | c., Russell |
| Sullivan, r. g. | l. f., Olivea |
| Bliss, l. g. | r. f., Jestings |

Score—Bats 4, Cranes 1. Goals from floor—Thompson, Bliss. Goal from foul line—Olivea. Referee—Slocum. Time—One 10-minute half.

The Hawks then threw a scare into the Bats, when the latter were able to win only by a 7-4 score, following a stiff battle. Thompson in his new position at forward again proved to be the mainstay of the Bats, dropping in five of the seven points made. Ladyman scored all the points for his quintet. The line-up and summary follows:

| Bats. | Hawks |
|---|---|
| Thompson, r. f. | l. g., Tarr |
| Hull, l. f. | r. g., Devlin |
| Peckham, c. | c., Quill |
| Delaney, r. g. | l. f., Larson |
| Holm, l. g. | r. f., Ladyman |

Score—Bats 7, Hawks 4. Goals from floor—Thompson 2, Peckham, Ladyman, 2. Goal from foul line—Thompson. Referee—Slocum. Time—One 10-minute half.

With three new players in their line-up the Cranes had it easy with the Hawks, whom they defeated 11-3. As in the other game the Hawks played Ladyman secured all their points, and had it not been for his general good work the Cranes' score might have been much larger. Olivea and Olson excelled for the Cranes. Line-up and summary:

| Cranes. | Hawks |
|---|---|
| Jestings, r. f. | l. g., Tarr |
| Olivea, l. f. | r. g., Devlin |
| Olson, c. | c., Quill |
| Braley, r. g. | l. f., Larson |
| Gerard, l. g. | r. f., Ladyman |

Score—Cranes 11, Hawks 3. Goals from floor—Olivea 2, Jestings, Olson 2; Ladyman. Goals from foul line—Olivea; Ladyman. Referee—Slocum. Time—One 10-minute half.

In a dish beat slightly the whites of three small eggs, then stir in one-half pound of sifted powdered sugar, the chopped nuts, a pinch of salt, a level tablespoonful of flour and one scant teaspoonful baking powder. Drop by the half teaspoonful, an inch apart, on flat buttered pans and bake in a moderate oven.

Hot Cream Puffs, Chocolate Sauce

Make the puffs or buy the unfilled ones. Mix together two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one tablespoonful flour, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of sugar and three well beaten eggs; add one-quarter cupful of cold milk; beat well and turn quickly into two cupfuls and a half of milk, scalding in a double boiler. Stir vigorously until thick and smooth, then cover and cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Take half out in a bowl and keep hot until needed, then stir in one scant teaspoonful of vanilla and one-half cupful of chopped nuts and fill the puffs, which have been warmed in the open oven. To the cream remaining in the double boiler add one square of chocolate grated and melted over hot water, then mixed with two-thirds of a cupful of hot milk. Take from the fire, stir in a half teaspoonful of vanilla and serve separately.

Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder and its use is more economical than other leavening agents, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Cheap baking powders, containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or advertised as pure and wholesome. Such mixtures are not desirable for food ingredients. Most persons have learned to their sorrow that a low price does not always mean economy. This is especially so in a food article. No baking powder can properly be substituted for Royal.

Read the ingredient clause upon the label. If it does not show "Cream of Tartar," don't buy the powder.

EIGHT O'CLOCK.

(Margaret Widdemer, in St. Nicholas.)

Of all the things the clock can say,
The one I do not like
Is "eight o'clock," that, twice a day,
The clocks and bells all strike.

For eight is "time-for-school," you know,
And eight is "time-for-bed":
And when it strikes, you have to go—
There's nothing to be said.

Sometimes it's "circuses" at two,
And sometimes "matinee,"
And three o'clock is "school-is-through,"
And four o'clock is "play."

And five o'clock and nine, and ten,
Eleven o'clock and one,
Why, nice "perhaps-things" happen then—
("Perhaps" is always fun).

And twelve and six go very fast
With "things-upon-a-plate,"
But soon as seven hurries past,
You hear the clock strike eight!

So when I'm grown and have my say,
And help to make things go,
I'm going to take the "eight" away
From every clock I know!

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

EASY TO PASS CERTAIN BILLS

The members of the Legislature will receive their checks from the state treasurer monthly. It rather looks as if somebody should be interested over that fact. It is certainly specially worthy of note whether these men are paid in their work or at the end of the session. It is rather unfortunate, however, from the public point of view that they should have passed this measure almost before the ink of their signatures to much that they have executed has commenced to attend the matter which pertains to their own interests is that at the same time they are doing practically nothing to advance the interests of the people they represent. They give the impression which is not very creditable that they can find time to devote to matters in which they are personally affected but not to consider carefully upon questions of legislation which would be of benefit to the people.

When the legislature is never learn that it is the people they are elected to serve and not themselves or their party. While it is always easy to understand that it would give as much attention to matters which affect the public interest as it does to those which concern themselves they would stand better with the people. It is far much more important that they should devote their time and the legislative day more often than they have been inclined to think that the measures for which the people are waiting should be matured. Long as these men perform their service in the law making body of the state in such a manner as it may would that they are entitled to criticism.

THE SUFFRAGIST THREAT

The Rhode Island suffragists seem really to mean business in their campaign before the legislature this year. One of those prominent in the movement is quoted as saying that she and her associates mean to defeat for re-election any leader of the Republican party who may be responsible if the measure giving women the right to vote for Presidential electors in this state is not passed at the present session. In other years the politicians at the State House have played fast and loose with the suffragists, evidently not considering them powerful enough in a political way to trouble their with much except to prevent the irritation and inconvenience experienced from their persistence. Thus it has been a regular occurrence for one branch of the Assembly to pass the woman suffrage bill, having it defeated in the other or to be of immediate in the minute.

It remains to be seen whether the leaders will show that they are the women engaged in the struggle to secure for members of their sex the right to vote for Presidential electors have more power than before and whether they can really do anything toward making good their threat. If they do it will cause the political downfall of those who oppose them in the legislature. It may be in the interest of the object of the movement in the state that the women will learn what they are after and is cost the long struggle for victory in this state. Of course that would be only the beginning for if they secure the ballot for Presidential electors they will demand further extension of the power as they propose to keep up the fight until the ballot for suffrage in this state is as it is exercised by women in other parts of the Union.

LOWER PENS

It appears that there are three [illegible] in New York who say that they have [illegible] in their letter his commending their purposes [illegible] but attend the dinner and tell the banqueters how to reduce rents. He elected the easier of the two courses.

If any place needs lower rent societies it certainly is New York but we should like to know how they are to attain their end and the report of the dinner is too brief to enlighten us. The landlords will charge all the rent for their tenements and have as much right to do so as the owners of any other merchandise have to make the best bargains they can. Many thousand people wish to live in a very small area and bid against each other for the chance and the price must inevitably rise. If there is fault it cannot be identified and corrected. The present holders paid great prices for the real estate and must obtain high rents or lose money.

In some English cities the municipality has bought land and built tenements thereon and rents them for what people of small earnings ought to pay and not what enterprising landlords find it possible to collect. It is barely possible that our cities may be obliged to do this but that is merely one form of the public ownership of land. Rising rents have been checked a little by improving means of travel within cities and their suburbs so that people can go farther from their work to live. Of course this raises rents in the newly settled sections and the growth of population in our cities has been so rapid that the effect upon rents in the congested districts has been slight. The means of transit in New York scarcely keep pace with the growth of population. To some extent the increasing rents are met by increasing wages but wages rise tardily and the people who suffer the most from high rents are those who benefit the least by wage advances.

THE DANGERS OF FOG

To all measures to navigation fog has been the most refractory. Lights have but little power of penetrating it and no device has yet been found which will determine certainly the direction from which sound comes. Many inventors have tried to provide this and from time to time they have produced apparatus which was claimed to be reasonably accurate. As these are not in common use it must be presumed that more has been claimed for them than the facts warranted.

There is an international rule of navigation which calls for moderate speed in case of fog but every captain is left to decide for himself what is moderate speed. Every captain wishes to pass through the fog as soon as possible and is under considerable pressure to keep to his schedule. Then too how thick is a fog? Looking off the vessel where there is nothing to see he cannot tell how far he might see if there were anything. Presently he sees something. It is another steamer coming toward him and if each steamer is going 10 miles in hour they are reducing the space between them 20 miles an hour or 1760 feet every minute.

It has been proposed that there should be a new rule requiring steamers to stop or maintain nothing more than headway when the officer on the bridge cannot see clearly one eighth of a mile. That distance is 660 feet. It is less than a steamer's length in the case of the largest vessels and only about the length of two of ordinary size. A steamer would be going very slowly indeed if it could be stopped in that space or rather in half that if two were approaching each other. The proposed rule therefore is not very severe. No vessel could move safely at anything but the very lowest speed which would give her steerage way if the officer on the bridge could not see 660 feet especially as it would not be easy for him to tell whether he could see that distance when there was no object at which to look. Until lights can penetrate fog for considerable distance and the direction from which sound comes can be determined steamers should barely move in a thick fog.

The tax commissioners of Cuyahoga county Ohio are after John D. Rockefeller attempting to force him to pay a tax of $12,000,000 on their estimate of his personal property which is placed at $800,000,000. Mr. Rockefeller has not been a resident of Ohio but the ill health of his wife has kept him in Cleveland the greater part of the past 3 months and the commissioners claim that under a law such he has become a resident of the county and is subject to the tax. He is a legal resident of New York and has paid his taxes there for the current year and it is claimed he is on half of his interest in Ohio. He is a legal resident of that state and this form is undoubtedly correct. An extended lawsuit is likely over the matter as Mr. Rockefeller does not propose to be imposed upon.

Newspaper reports of the hearings before the Senate committee have created the impression that woman suffrage is a dead issue in national politics and that it will have nothing to do with pressing the constitutional amendment granting women the right to vote. As the Democrats as well as President Wilson are doing the issue of course is in jeopardy of Rhode Island's senators who voted against the amendment that the question is to be left to states and not for the nation to decide.

The action of the house of representatives in adopting a resolution to increase the salaries of the clerks of certain important committees from $800 to $1,000 and of others less important from $500 to $700 is to be commended. It would perhaps be better if a uniform distinction between the committees should be made at all times during the session while there do practically nothing and hence do not require the service of a clerk. It remains to be seen whether the senate will concur with the house in its action.

Former Governor and now Assemblyman William Sulzer makes his first speech in the New York house of representatives the occasion for supporting the resolution for a state wide investigation of official graft. Incidentally he refers to some one whom he had no hesitancy in saying will take control of state affairs on January 1 next and conduct them as they should be. Asked whom he meant Mr. Sulzer replies Roosevelt of course. So the two ex-governors are to join hands. Rather an incongruous pair, but politics makes strange bed fellows.

Although nearly 200,000 women registered in Chicago to vote in the aldermanic election in April it is said that mistakes were few and in the opinion of many of the officials were no greater than those which have been made by men on every registration day. Why should the women make mistakes? They had been drilled in the processes of registration and probably knew as much about it as the average man.

The women have gained a point in New Jersey the house of representatives having passed a resolution submitting a constitutional amendment extending to them the right of suffrage. This must be approved by the senate and confirmed by the next legislature before it goes to the referendum vote of the people. It is a step however which New Jersey has not before taken.

Boss Murphy does not propose to be driven out of the Tammany leadership if he can prevent it. His only reply to resolutions adopted by the National Democratic Club of New York is "I am still and am going to remain leader of Tammany Hall." Nevertheless some of the men in the fight hope to make it so warm for him that he will decide he has had enough and will withdraw.

Blunderbuss and Weeks has a familiar sound. For a time it is not the banks for one has been named for the court of appeals of New York and the other for the supreme bench.

LITTLE COMPTON

The wild dogs still roaming at large through the Crandall Road woods are causing considerable alarm. Young children have to be carried to and from school by their parents as the dogs have ventured out into the roads, biting and jumping at passing wagons. They appear to be almost starved. Farmers in the neighborhood of the woods are keeping a sharp lookout for their cattle while they are in the fields. A reward has been offered for the capture of each dog, it is reported but it seems that the amount is not large enough. Traps have been set in various places but the only dogs caught have been those of the neighbors in the vicinity.

The recent rains have made the roads in many places almost impassible. Three automobiles two from Fall River and one from New Bedford became stuck in the mud in one of the east roads Sunday afternoon and had to be assisted by neighbors' horses.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Feb. 4—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair and colder tonight and Thursday; moderate west to northwest winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

There is much cloudy unsettled weather in northern districts this morning in the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys and the Gulf states. Precipitation generally rather light has occurred in all these sections during the past 24 hours. The weak disturbance noted over the Lake region Tuesday has moved to the St. Lawrence valley. The pressure has risen in central portions of the country and is quite high in the British provinces to northward through Saskatchewan eastward through Ontario. The temperature continues low in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys and has fallen in the upper Lake region. The lowest in the United States is again at Williston North Dakota 18 degrees below zero. At Prince Albert Saskatchewan the lowest during the night was 42 degrees below zero. With the rising pressure which will follow the eastward passage of the St. Lawrence valley disturbance colder weather will ensue in this vicinity during the next 36 hours. Tonight in the vicinity of Boston the minimum will fall to 10 to 20 degrees, and lower Thursday night. In New York city at 8 a. m. the temperature was 44. Boston 46 Washington 44 Jacksonville 58 New Orleans 54, St Louis 20 Chicago 10 St Paul 4 below Des Moines 12 Kansas City 20 Denver 28 Salt Lake City 20 San Francisco 44 and Portland, Oregon 40.

EASY TO PASS CERTAIN BILLS.

The members of the legislature will receive their salaries from the state treasurer monthly hereafter. Nobody seems particularly disturbed over that fact or to care especially whether these men are paid in that way or at the end of the session. It is rather unfortunate, however, from the public point of view, that they should have passed this measure almost before any other. It is not so much that they have exercised unseemly haste in attending to a matter which pertains to their own interests as that at the same time they are doing practically nothing to advance the interests of the people they represent. They give the impression, which is not very creditable, that they can find time to devote to matters by which they are personally affected but not to consider and act upon questions and legislation which would be of benefit to the public.

Will the legislators never learn that it is the people they are elected to serve, and not themselves or their party? Will they always fail to understand that if they would give as much attention to matters which affect the public interest as to things which concern themselves they would stand better with the people? Is it so much more important that they should receive their stipend of $5 a legislative day more often than they had been accustomed than that the measures for which the people are waiting should be enacted? So long as these men perform their service in the law-making body of the state in such a manner, is it any wonder that they are subjected to criticism?

THE SUFFRAGIST THREAT.

The Rhode Island suffragists seem really to mean business in their campaign before the legislature this year. One of those prominent in the movement is quoted as saying that she and her associates mean to defeat for re-election any leader of the Republican party who may be responsible if the measure giving women the right to vote for Presidential electors in this state is not passed at the present session. In other years the politicians at the State House have played fast and loose with the suffragists, evidently not considering them powerful enough in a political way to bother with much, except to prevent the irritation and inconvenience experienced from their persistence. Thus it has been a regular occurrence for one branch of the Assembly to pass the woman suffrage resolution, leaving it to be killed in the other or to die of inanition on the committee files.

It remains to be seen whether the Republican leaders will believe this year that the women engaged in the struggle to secure for members of their sex the right to vote for Presidential electors have more power than before and can really do anything toward making good their alleged threats to cause the political downfall of those who oppose them in the legislature. It may be, if the politicians are observant of the conditions in the state, that the women will gain what they are after, and thus close the long struggle for victory on this point. Of course that would be only the beginning, for if they secure the ballot for Presidential electors they will demand further extension of the power, as they propose to keep up the fight until they gain full suffrage in this state, as it is exercised by women in other parts of the Union.

LOWER RENTS?

It appears that there are three "lower rent societies" in New York, and that they had a dinner and Governor Glynn wrote them a letter highly commending their purposes, but he did not attend the dinner and tell the banqueters how to reduce rents. He elected the easier of the two courses.

If any place needs lower rent societies it certainly is New York, but we should like to know how they are to attain their end, and the report of the dinner is too brief to enlighten us. The landlords will charge all they can for their tenements, and have as much right to do so as the owners of any other merchandise have to make the best bargains they can. Many thousand people wish to live in a very small area and bid against each other for the chance, and the price must inevitably rise. If there is fault it cannot be identified and located. The present holders paid great prices for the real estate and must obtain high rents or lose money.

In some English cities the municipality has bought land and built tenements thereon, and rents them for what people of small earnings ought to pay and not what enterprising landlords find it possible to collect. It is barely possible that our cities may be obliged to do this, but that is merely one form of the public ownership of land. Rising rents have been checked a little by improving means of travel within cities and their suburbs, so that people can go farther from their work to live. Of course this raises rents in the newly settled sections, and the growth of population in our cities has been so rapid that the effect upon rents in the congested districts has been slight. The means of transit in New York scarcely keep pace with the growth of population. To some extent the increasing rents are met by increasing wages, but wages rise tardily and the people who suffer the most from high rents are those who benefit the least by wage advances.

THE DANGERS OF FOG.

Of all menaces to navigation fog has been the most refractory. Lights have but little power of penetrating it, and no device has yet been found which will determine certainly the direction from which sound comes. Many inventors have tried to provide this and from time to time they have produced apparatus which was claimed to be reasonably accurate. As these are not in common use it must be presumed that more has been claimed for them than the facts warranted.

There is an international rule of navigation which calls for "moderate speed" in case of fog, but every captain is left to decide for himself what is moderate speed. Every captain wishes to pass through the fog as soon as possible and is under considerable pressure to keep to his schedule. Then, too, how thick is a fog? Looking off the vessel, where there is nothing to see, he cannot tell how far he might see if there were anything. Presently he sees something. It is another steamer coming toward him and if each steamer is going 10 miles an hour they are reducing the space between them 20 miles an hour or 1,760 feet every minute. [illegible]

It has been proposed that there should be a new rule requiring steamers to stop or maintain nothing more than headway when the officer on the bridge cannot see clearly one eighth of a mile. That distance is 660 feet; it is less than a steamer's length in the case of the largest vessels, and only about the length of two of ordinary size. A steamer would be going very slowly indeed if it could be stopped in that space, or rather in half of it, if two were approaching each other. The proposed rule, therefore, is not very severe. No vessel could move safely at anything but the very lowest speed which would give her steerage way if the officer on the bridge could not see 660 feet, especially as it would not be easy for him to tell whether he could see that distance when there was no object at which to look. Until lights can penetrate fog for considerable distance, and the direction from which sound comes can be determined, steamers should barely move in a thick fog.

The tax commissioners of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, are after John D. Rockefeller, attempting to force him to pay a tax of $12,000,000 on their estimate of his personal property, which is placed at $900,000,000. Mr. Rockefeller has not been a legal resident of Ohio, but the prolonged illness of his wife has kept him in Cleveland the greater part of the past 12 months and the commissioners claim that under a new state law he has become a resident of the county and is subject to the tax. He is a legal resident of New York and has paid his taxes there for the current year, and it is claimed in his behalf that his enforced detention in Ohio does not and cannot make him a legal resident of that state and this claim is undoubtedly correct. An extended lawsuit is likely over the matter, as Mr. Rockefeller does not propose to be imposed upon.

Now the Democrats of the national House of Representatives have voted in caucus that woman suffrage is a state and not a national question, and therefore they will have nothing to do with proposing a constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote. Are the Democrats, as well as President Wilson, dodging the issue? Congressman O'Shaunessy of Rhode Island was one of 57 who voted against the declaration that the question is one for the states and not for the nation to decide.

The action of the house of representatives in adopting a resolution reducing the salaries of the clerks of certain important committees from $800 to $500 and of others, less important, from $500 to $100, is to be commended. It would perhaps be better to make a more marked distinction between the committees. Some are busy at all times during the session, while others do practically nothing and hence do not require the service of a clerk. It remains to be seen whether the senate will concur with the house in its action.

Former Governor and now Assemblyman William Sulzer makes his first speech in the New York house of representatives the occasion for supporting the resolution for a state-wide investigation of official graft. Incidentally he refers to "some one" whom he had "no hesitancy in saying will take control of state affairs on January 1 next and conduct them as they should be." Asked whom he meant, Mr. Sulzer replies: "Roosevelt, of course." So the two ex-governors are to join hands. Rather an incongruous pair, but politics makes strange bed-fellows.

Although nearly 200,000 women registered in Chicago to vote in the aldermanic election in April, it is said that mistakes were few, and in the opinion of many of the officials were no greater than those which have been made by men on every registration day. Why should the women make mistakes? They had been drilled in the processes of registration and probably knew as much about it as the average man.

The women have gained a point in New Jersey, the house of representatives having passed a resolution submitting a constitutional amendment extending to them the right of suffrage. This must be approved by the senate and confirmed by the next legislature before it goes to the referendum vote of the people. It is a step, however, which New Jersey has not before taken.

Boss Murphy does not propose to be driven out of the Tammany leadership, if he can prevent it. His only reply to resolutions adopted by the National Democratic Club of New York is: "I am still, and am going to remain, leader of Tammany Hall." Nevertheless, some of the men in the fight hope to make it so warm for him that he will decide he has had enough and will withdraw.

Hornblower and Weeks has a familiar sound. This time it is not the bankers, for one has been named for the court of appeals of New York and the other for the supreme bench.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The February meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was held with Mrs. E. E. Wells at the Methodist parsonage Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Fred Smith presiding. It was voted to present the missionary lecture, "Children of Many Lands," illustrated by tinted slides, March 10 at the Methodist Episcopal Church. The lecture will be open to the public and will be given by one of the women of the society, to be followed by a "pink tea." The program of the afternoon, conducted by Mrs. Wells, included the two subjects, "The Six Methodist Conferences in China," which was a portion of the mission study for the year, and "Drilling the King's Army," from the book, "The King's Business." [illegible] Mrs. Charles Albro, who has been confined to her home on the East Main road by illness the past week, is again able to be about. Miss Dorcas Barker, of Newport is with her.

The annual Flag Day program has been distributed at the various schools by Superintendent N. L. Champlin.

The private school at the East side, which has been closed on account of the German measles, re-opened today.

The men of the Methodist Episcopal Church are making more extensive preparations this year for their annual event, the turkey supper, than ever before, and the affair will be conducted on the largest scale yet attempted. A program of music by Newport professionals will be an added attraction.

A surprise party was given recently at Mr. J. Gracey's residence on Mitchell's lane for his youngest daughter, Elsie. Many were present and there was a program of music. Ice cream and cake were served. Among the guests were Miss Gracey's sister, Miss Marie Gracey, and Miss Steiger, from Brooklyn.

PORTSMOUTH.

The Turkey Supper Given by St. Paul's Guild Well Patronized.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The largest number ever attending a supper or social affair at St. Paul's parish house, with the exception of the annual lawn parties, was present at the turkey supper given by the guild from 5:30 until after 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Ten minutes after supper was announced as ready the five tables, seating 80, were filled and in a few minutes enough more were present for a second filling. Among those present from Newport were Superintendent Donahoe of the Bay State street railway and Foremen Durfee and Thomas, with their wives and Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Gladding. More than 200 were served. The menu included roast turkey, gravy, dressing, mashed potato and turnip, onions, cranberry jelly, pickles, rolls, apple, squash and mince pie, coffe and tea. The tables were lighted with pink candles in handsome candelabra, which with the new electric lights made a brilliant display.

The committee which made the success possible had done much hard work and given much time, as well as providing many of the supplies. This committee was Mrs. Frederick Webb, chairman; Mrs. Alfred J. Mott, Mrs. Ralph H. Anthony, Mrs. William A. Lawrence, Mrs. Harry Dale, Miss Louise Chase and Miss Harriet Frances Sanford. Miss Sanford had charge of table No. 1, assisted by Mrs. Peter Malone, Miss Clara Anthony, Miss Evelyn B. Chase and Mrs. William F. Grinnell. ## LITTLE COMPTON.

The wild dogs still roaming at large through the Crandall Road woods are causing considerable alarm. Young children have to be carried to and from school by their parents, as the dogs have ventured out into the roads, biting and jumping at passing wagons. They appear to be almost starved. Farmers in the neighborhood of the woods are keeping a sharp lookout for their cattle while they are in the fields. A reward has been offered for the capture of each dog. It is reported, but it seems that the amount is not large enough. Traps have been set in various places, but the only dogs caught have been those of the neighbors in the vicinity.

The recent rains have made the roads, in many places, almost impassable. Three automobiles, two from Fall River and one from New Bedford, became stuck in the mud in one of the east roads Sunday afternoon, and had to be assisted by neighbors' horses.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair and colder tonight and Thursday; moderate west to northwest winds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Forecast for southern New England—Fair and colder tonight and Thursday; diminishing northwest winds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Forecast for northern New England—Fair tonight, except snow in northern Maine; much colder; Thursday, fair and colder; diminishing northwest winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

There is much cloudy, unsettled weather in northern districts this morning in the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys and the Gulf states. Precipitation, generally rather light, has occurred in all these sections during the past 24 hours. The weak disturbance noted over the Lake region Tuesday has moved to the St. Lawrence valley. The pressure has risen in central portions of the country and is quite high in the British provinces, from Saskatchewan eastward through Ontario. The temperature continues low in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, and has fallen in the upper Lake region. The lowest in the United States is again at Williston, North Dakota, 18 degrees below zero. At Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, the lowest during the night was 42 degrees below zero. With the rising pressure, which will follow the eastward passage of the St. Lawrence valley disturbance, colder weather will ensue in this vicinity during the next 36 hours. Tonight in the vicinity of Boston the minimum will fall to 15 or 20 degrees, and lower Thursday night. In New York city at 8 a. m. the temperature was 44, Boston 46, Washington 44, Jacksonville 58, New Orleans 54, St. Louis 20, Chicago 10, St. Paul 4 below, Des Moines 12, Kansas City 20, Denver 26, Salt Lake City 20, San Francisco 44 and Portland, Oregon, 40.

JUNIOR CHAMPIONS OF CITY.

Aquidnecks Win From Father Mathew Second by Large Score of 55-23.

Trinity Choir Boys and Rogers Senior Middles Defeat Basket Ball Quintets.

Before a large crowd in Father Mathew hall Tuesday evening the Aquidnecks succeeded in winning over the Tabs' second team by the large score of 55-23, and incidentally removed all doubts as to being the Junior champions of the city. The Tabs played well in the first half, when the Aquidnecks were held even until the final minutes, but in the second the latter struck the stride which has carried them to many easy victories and goals were dropped in rapid order on the faltering Tab quintet, who weakened badly.

A feature was the ability of the Aquidnecks in scoring their points. At one time during the second half 10 goals were tallied on 12 tries, and with opponents blocking desperately this is considered good. While the Tabs were in condition they put up a rapid game, but once Diggles, Connolly and Co. started the game resulted in a runaway.

Each team took the lead several times during the first half, when the crowd was much in evidence through its cheering. With Hamilton doing the bulk of the scoring for the Tabs and Diggles and Connolly for the Aquidnecks, the score resulted in a tie at 12, with two minutes to play, when the Aquidnecks made the spurt which resulted in a lead never overtaken. Diggles tallied on a foul try and a field goal, while Kenney added two more before the half was over, making the score 19-12 in the Aquidnecks' favor.

For a long time in the second half there was little scoring. Towards the middle, however, the Aquidnecks began to pass around the fast tiring Tabs, and by means of excellent shooting soon rolled in enough points to double the score and win easily. Occasionally the Tabs would sandwich in a couple of points, Ford being the high scorer for them during this half, with five points. Connolly was in fine form and was the high scorer for the evening, with seven goals, Diggles and Kenney being close seconds. The score for the second half was 36-11 in the Aquidnecks' favor.

Connolly, Diggles and Kenney were the stars for the winners, while Hamilton and Noonan did well for the Tabs. The line-up and summary:

|---|---|
| Aquidnecks. | Father Mathew Second. |
| Diggles, r. f. | l. g., Davis |
| Connolly, l. f. | r. g., Hussey |
| Cremin, c. | c., Ford |
| Martin, r. g. | l. f., Noonan |
| Kenney, l. g. | r. f., Hamilton |

Score—Aquidnecks 55, Father Mathew Second 23. Goals from floor—Connolly 7, Diggles 6, Kenney 6, Martin 3, Cremin 2; Hamilton 5, Ford 2, Hussey 2, Davis, Noonan. Goals from foul line—Cremin 2, Diggles; Ford. Referee—McGrath. Scorer—Jemail. Timer—Shea. Time—20-minute halves.

The Senior Middles of the Rogers class league evened up for their earlier defeat at the hands of Cloyne School Tuesday evening at Cloyne House, when the latter were defeated 43-28. The game was the roughest seen on the Cloyne floor this year, being marked by the frequent clashes. Numerous shots of a difficult order were made by both sides, but the Senior Middles proved the more adept at making points when needed, and as a consequence won by a comfortable score.

Both teams began at a speedy pace, which was continued throughout the half. Cloyne House led for the first few minutes, the Senior Middles rolling down on several easy tries. Sullivan and Dunn soon came to the fore for the high school team and towards the end of the half the score was tied and finally passed, the Senior Middles leading at the end by a score of 19-14.

The second was much closer than the score indicates, but the Senior Middles with their superior condition, and playing with a confidence backed by their lead, soon began to score rapidly. Cloyne House made many spurts, but could never catch the high school boys, who scored whenever pressed. The count for the second half was 24-14, with the Cloyne House again on the short end.

Sullivan led in the scoring for the Senior Middles with eight goals, and was the star for the winners, while Dunn's all-round playing and shooting was good. For Cloyne Wells and Talcott were easily the best, the former making eight goals. The line-up and summary:

| Senior Middles | Cloyne House. |
|---|---|
| Denniston, r. f. | l. g., Atwater |
| Dunn, l. f. | r. g., Robbins |
| Sullivan, c. | c., Chambers |
| Ganache, r. g. | l. f., Talcott |
| Pinto, l. g. | r. f., Wells |

Score—Senior Middles 43 Cloyne House 28. Goals from floor—Sullivan 8, Dunn 6. Denniston 2, Pinto 2. Ganache; Wells 8, Talcott 4, Chambers. Goals from foul line—Sullivan 5; Wells 2. Referees—Thompson and Kelley. Scorer—Moore. Timer—Jennings. Time—20-minute halves.

The Trinity Choir Boys defeated the St. George's Choir Boys in a lively game, 10 to 3. F. Pollitt and E. Pollitt did the best playing for the winners. The St. George's boys did well, for their first game. The line-up was as follows.

| Trinity. | St. George's. |
|---|---|
| F. Pollitt, r. f. | l. b., Wood |
| Clark, l. f. | r. b., Lewis, Oxx |
| E. Pollitt, c. | c., Wilson |
| Lake, r. b. | l. f., Edwards |
| Goddard, l. b. | r. f., Mitchell |

Score—Trinity Choir Boys 10, St. George's Choir Boys 3. Goals from floor—F. Pollitt 2, E. Pollitt 2; Mitchell. Goals from fouls—F. Pollitt, E. Pollitt; Lewis.

TO PLAY EASIER TEAM.

Rogers Boys Postpone Game with Technical High of Fall River.

In view of the fact that the Rogers basket ball team, although winning all its games, has been going at a bad rate in the last three played, and also considering the fact that Captain Marshall will be unable to play Friday night, the game with Technical High of Fall River, champions of southeastern Massachusetts, has been postponed by Manager Sweeney until a later date. In its place an easier team will be substituted, to enable the team to continue in practice.

For the first time in three weeks all the players were out to participate in the practice in the gymnasium Tuesday afternoon, and to have seen the team in action one would be led to believe the boys have returned to their earlier form, so speedy was their playing and so accurate their shooting. The scrimmage lasted an hour without rest, and another similar practice will be held Thursday.

TUESDAY'S FISH CATCH.

Abundance of Heads from Steak Cod Available to Farmers.

The fishermen were all out this morning, but the fog was too much for some and they returned. Tuesday's catch was as follows: At Tallman & Mack's Gus Larson, in the Clara T., 6,200 pounds; Frank Lewis 900, Will Luth 1,700, John Kent 1,350, Henry Mensen 2,300, J. Driscoll 435, Champion Brothers 540, J. Papa 1,550. At C. B. Anderson's the T. B. Congdon was in with 1,650, Jim Kelley with 1,750 and the T. W. Larson with 700.

So much steak cod is now arriving that the disposal of the fish heads is a problem. The cheeks and tongues are cut out, but there remains a good deal of each head. John Mack has suggested that if farmers need these for fertilizer purposes there is an opportunity to procure them. At either place they would be glad to dispose of the heads if some one desires them. In summer the lobster fishermen would use them, but there is no lobstering now.

SUNSHINE AFTER FOG.

Thermometer Rises to the Occasion With Record High Marks.

There can be no disputing the statement that the pleasantest weather of the week was furnished this afternoon. The thermometer rose to 51 at 2.30 and it felt much warmer in the sun. There had been a heavy fog from about 7.30 until a few minutes after 11, when the sun broke through and the fog cleared almost as quickly as it had settled down. The thermometer rose to the occasion and the mercury went up. Some high marks were recorded—102, in the sun, at Wright & Hay's about 1; it had been 86 about noon and 98 about 12.30 by the same thermometer. Others in the sun showed 69 and 72 and the News office thermometer was doing a climbing stunt all the time. It had started high—44 about 6.30 this morning against 33 at the same hour Tuesday and 29 Monday.

If those two predicted cold snaps reach Newport this week they will find all the frost out of the ground and even the wetness gone in places. The grass is looking brightly green in wet places and a piece of pussy willow was found on Thames street this morning. It had not grown on Thames street, though the street was almost wet enough.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The first in the series of whists and socials to be given by the King's Daughters was held Tuesday evening in the Gardner House hall. The attendance was not large. Mrs. A. S. Clarke and Dr A. M. Mendenhall won the first prizes, while Miss Alice Cottrell and Mr Alfred Peckham were awarded the consolations. After the whist the hall was cleared and dancing was in order until midnight. Refreshments were served.

Mr. Ledyard Anthony, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Anthony, has returned to Providence.

Weather conditions on the island today were more like June than February. The fog of the early morning disappeared about 10 o'clock and at noon the air was clear, with the thermometer standing at 48.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. Eugene Schreier is at the Perry House during his stay in Newport.

Joseph Cooper is to lead the devotional exercises and there will be music by a chorus and an address by Dr. T Alex. Cairns. Nathan W. Littlefield, formerly principal of the Newport high school, will preside.

today from Annapolis, where he gave a lecture before the cadets at the Naval Academy Monday evening.

—There seems to be, in the first days of the reign of Judge Baker in the district court, the same aversion to coming into court noted in the first days of the reign of Judge Franklin. There was hatching to do again today at the court house or the police station. A lad charged with purloining 18 cents from the pocket of another boy was given a "lecture," but no charges were made.

RIGHT TO SHIP ARMS ACROSS LINE EXTENDED.

passage of arms to the villians of Villa, who rob, burn and assassinate, or that the directing regime of a cultured people under the influence of a headstrong functionary should become the accomplices of such a horde of outlaws. It continues:

"It appears impossible that President Wilson can be a man devoid of conscience or shame. If the American people approve the stupendous measure of the White House it will deserve the execration of all honorable nations."

RESULT OF WILSON'S ACT.

New Orleans Dealers Prepare for Shipments of Arms to Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4. Dealers in war material here today began to prepare supplies for shipments to rebels in northern Mexico, as a result of the decision of President Wilson to lift the embargo on shipments of munitions of war into the southern republic. About 100 men were working at warehouses packing rifles, cartridges and machine guns.

DRIVEN OUT OF MEXICO.

Paymaster's Corps of the Huerta Government Arrives at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—Driven out of northern Mexico by the rebels under General Villa, the paymaster's corps of the Huerta government for the northern military division arrived in New Orleans today en route to Mexico City. The officers were with General Mercado when he fled before General Villa's forces at Ojinaga. They leave tonight for Vera Cruz, via Havana. The detachment is going back to the capital to serve their chief, it is said, in whatever capacity he may call on them.

DID NOT SEE VILLA.

Sandoval, at New Orleans, Prepares to Leave for Havana.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—Jose Bonales Sandoval, a lawyer of Mexico City, reported to have been sent on a secret mission from Havana, Cuba, last week, by General Felix Diaz, to induce General Francisco Villa to renounce General Carranza and recognize General Diaz as the leader of the Mexican rebellion, arrived here today from San Antonio, Texas, and prepared to leave for Havana.

Sandoval said he did not see General Villa. He was on his way here, he said, when he read the news of General Villa's execution of Francisco Guzman, who was said to have gone to Juarez in an effort to get General Villa to renounce Carranza. Sandoval said he had no connection with Guzman's visit to Juarez.

THEIR EFFORTS SUCCESSFUL.

Officials of American Embassy Secure Release of Newspaper Employes.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 4.—Officials of the American embassy have been successful in their efforts to secure the release of Miss Victoria Hastings, an American newspaper writer, and Mr. Wallace, a newspaper photographer, who were arrested here last night. Miss Hastings was ordered to appear today before the authorities.

ON RAISING THE EMBARGO.

French Attitude Toward United States Policy in Mexico.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The French policy of recognizing that the United States government should have a free hand in Mexico, which was decided on early last autumn, will not be affected by the raising of the embargo on the exportation of arms from the United States to Mexico, according to the views expressed in semi-official quarters here today.

Francisco de la Barra, Mexican minister to France, said today that he could not see how the policy of permitting such leaders as Emiliano Zapata and Francisco Villa to arm themselves freely could be consistent with the humanitarian views of President Wilson.

In reply to which Captain Inch modestly disclaimed having done anything but his duty.

TO STOP SHORT CUTTING.

Straight Walk Down Government Landing to be Returned.

Arrangements have been made for changing back the walk down the Government Landing, so that it will run straight beside the Daily News building. Since the roadway was changed to accommodate the automobiles which desired a straight course across Thames street between the Landing and Church street, a pocket has been left by the private way alongside the News building. The attempt to hedge this in has not been popular with the men using the Landing and they have gone through the hedge on foot and on bicycles when in a hurry to catch one of the boats. It was apparent that if this short cutting was to be stopped a guard must be kept there all the time or some more formidable barricade erected, and the return of the straight walk has been considered the easiest way out of the difficulty.

JUNIOR CHAMPIONS OF CITY.

Aquidnecks Win From Father Mathew Second by Large Score of 55-23.

Trinity Choir Boys and Rogers Senior Middles Defeat Basket Ball Quintets.

Before a large crowd in Father Mathew hall Tuesday evening the Aquidnecks succeeded in winning over the Tabs' second team by the large score of 55-23, and incidentally removed all doubts as to being the junior champions of the city. The Tabs played well in the first half, when the Aquidnecks were held even until the final minutes, but in the second the latter struck the stride which has carried them to many easy victories and goals were dropped in rapid order on the faltering Tab quintet, who weakened badly.

A feature was the ability of the Aquidnecks in scoring their points. At one time during the second half 10 goals were tallied on 12 tries, and with opponents blocking desperately this is considered good. While the Tabs were in condition they put up a rapid game, but once Diggles, Connolly and Co. started the game resulted in a runaway.

Each team took the lead several times during the first half, when the crowd was much in evidence through its cheering. With Hamilton doing the bulk of the scoring for the Tabs and Diggles and Connolly for the Aquidnecks, the score resulted in a tie at 12, with two minutes to play, when the Aquidnecks made the spurt which resulted in a lead never overtaken. Diggles tallied on a foul try and a field goal, while Kenney added two more before the half was over, making the score 19-12 in the Aquidnecks' favor.

For a long time in the second half there was little scoring. Towards the middle, however, the Aquidnecks began to pass around the fast tiring Tabs, and by means of excellent shooting soon rolled in enough points to double the score and win easily. Occasionally the Tabs would sandwich in a couple of points, Ford being the high scorer for them during this half, with five points. Connolly was in fine form and was the high scorer for the evening, with seven goals, Diggles and Kenney being close seconds. The score for the second half was 36-11 in the Aquidnecks' favor.

Connolly, Diggles and Kenney were the stars for the winners, while Hamilton and Noonan did well for the Tabs. The line-up and summary:

| Aquidnecks. | Father Mathew Second. |
|---|---|
| Diggles, r. f. | l. g., Davis |
| Connolly, l. f. | r. g., Hussey |
| Cremin, c. | c., Ford |
| Martin, r. g. | l. f., Noonan |
| Kenney, l. g. | r. f., Hamilton |

Score—Aquidnecks 55, Father Mathew Second 23. Goals from floor—Connolly 7, Diggles 6, Kenney 6, Martin 3, Cremin 2, Hamilton 5, Ford 2, Hussey 2, Davis, Noonan. Goals from foul line—Cremin 2, Diggles; Ford. Referee—McGrath. Scorer—Jemail. Timer—Shea. Time—20-minute halves.

The Senior Middles of the Rogers class league evened up for their earlier defeat at the hands of Cloyne School Tuesday evening at Cloyne House, when the latter were defeated 43-28. The game was the roughest seen on the Cloyne floor this year, being marked by the frequent classes. Numerous shots of a difficult order were made by both sides, but the Senior Middles proved the more adept at making points when needed, and as a consequence won by a comfortable score.

Both teams began at a speedy pace, which was continued throughout the half. Cloyne House led for the first five minutes, the Senior Middles rolling down on several easy tries. Sullivan and Dunn soon came to the fore for the high school team and towards the end of the half the score was tied and finally passed, the Senior Middles leading at the end by a score of 19-14.

The second was much closer than the score indicates, but the Senior Middles with their superior condition, and playing with a confidence backed by their lead, soon began to score rapidly. Cloyne House made many spurts, but could never catch the high school boys, who scored whenever pressed. The count for the second half was 24-14, with the Cloyne House again on the short end.

Sullivan led in the scoring for the Senior Middles with eight goals, and was the star for the winners, while Dunn's all-round playing and shooting was good. For Cloyne Wells and Talcott were easily the best, the former making eight goals. The line-up and summary:

| Senior Middles. | Cloyne House. |
|---|---|
| Denniston, r. f. | r. g., Atwater |
| Dunn, l. f. | r. g., Robbins |
| Sullivan, c. | c., Chambers |
| Gamache, r. g. | l. f., Talcott |
| Pinto, l. g. | r. f., Wells |

Score—Senior Middles 43 Cloyne House 28. Goals from floor—Sullivan 8, Dunn 6, Denniston 2, Pinto 2, Gamache; Wells 8, Talcott 4, Chambers. Goals from foul line—Sullivan 5; Wells 2. Referees—Thompson and Kelley. Scorer—Moore. Timer—Jennings. Time—20-minute halves.

The Trinity Choir Boys defeated the St. George's Choir Boys in a lively game, 10 to 3. F. Pollitt and E. Pollitt did the best playing for the winners. The St. George's boys did well, for their first game. The line-up was as follows:

| Trinity. | St. George's. |
|---|---|
| F. Pollitt, r. f. | l. b., Wood |
| Clark, l. f. | r. b., Lewis, Oxx |
| E. Pollitt, c. | c., Wilson |
| Lake, r. b. | l. f., Edwards |
| Goddard, l. b. | r. f., Mitchell |

Score—Trinity Choir Boys 10, St. George's Choir Boys 3. Goals from floor—F. Pollitt 2, E. Pollitt 2; Mitchell. Goals from fouls—F. Pollitt, E. Pollitt; Lewis.

TO PLAY EASIER TEAM.

Rogers Boys Postpone Game with Technical High of Fall River.

In view of the fact that the Rogers basket ball team, although winning all its games, has been going at a bad rate in the last three played, and also considering the fact that Captain Marshall will be unable to play Friday night, the game with Technical High of Fall River, champions of southeastern Massachusetts, has been postponed by Manager Sweeney until a later date. In its place an easier team will be substituted, to enable the team to continue in practice.

For the first time in three weeks all the players were out to participate in the practice in the gymnasium Tuesday afternoon, and to have seen the team in action one would be led to believe the boys have returned to their earlier form, so speedy was their playing and so accurate their shooting. The scrimmage lasted an hour without rest, and another similar practice will be held Thursday.

TUESDAY'S FISH CATCH.

Abundance of Heads from Steak Cod Available to Farmers.

The fishermen were all out this morning, but the fog was too much for some and they returned. Tuesday's catch was as follows: At Tallman & Mack's Gus Larson, in the Clara T., 6,200 pounds; Frank Lewis 900, Will Luth 1,700, John Kent 1,300, Henry Monsen 2,300, J. Driscoll 435, Champion Brothers 540, J. Papa 1,550. At C. B. Anderson's the T. B. Congdon was in with 1,650, Jim Kelley with 1,750 and the T. W. Larson with 700.

So much steak cod is now arriving that the disposal of the fish heads is a problem. The cheeks and tongues are cut out, but there remains a good deal of each head. John Mack has suggested that if farmers need these for fertilizer purposes there is an opportunity to procure them. At either place they would be glad to dispose of the heads if some one desires them. In summer the lobster fishermen would use them, but there is no lobstering now.

SUNSHINE AFTER FOG.

Thermometer Rises to the Occasion With Record High Marks.

There can be no disputing the statement that the pleasantest weather of the week was furnished this afternoon. The thermometer rose to 54 at 2.30 and it felt much warmer in the sun. There had been a heavy fog from about 7.30 until a few minutes after 11, when the sun broke through and the fog cleared almost as quickly as it had settled down. The thermometer rose to the occasion and the mercury went up. Some high marks were recorded—102, in the sun, at Wright & Hay's about 1; it had been 86 about noon and 58 about 12.20 by the same thermometer. Others in the sun showed 69 and 72 and the News office thermometer was doing a climbing stunt all the time. It had started high—44 about 6.30 this morning against 33 at the same hour Tuesday and 29 Monday.

If those two predicted cold snaps reach Newport this week they will find all the frost out of the ground and even the wetness gone in places. The grass is looking brightly green in wet places and a piece of pussy willow was found on Thames street this morning. It had not grown on Thames street, though the street was almost wet enough.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The first in the series of whists and socials to be given by the King's Daughters was held Tuesday evening in the Gardner House hall. The attendance was not large. Mrs. A. S. Clarke and Dr. A. M. Blendenhall won the first prizes, while Miss Alice Cottrell and Mr. Alfred Peckham were awarded the consolations. After the whist the hall was cleared and dancing was in order until midnight. Refreshments were served.

Mr. Ledyard Anthony, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Anthony, has returned to Providence.

Weather conditions on the island today were more like June than February. The fog of the early morning disappeared about 10 o'clock and at noon the air was clear, with the thermometer standing at 48.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. Eugene Schreier is at the Perry House during his stay in Newport.

—Mr. Probert, who took the birth census up town, has finished and delivered his returns to the city clerk.

Littlefield, formerly principal of the Newport high school, will preside.

today from Annapolis, where he gave a lecture before the cadets at the Naval Academy Monday evening.

—There seems to be, in the first days of the reign of Judge Baker in the district court, the same aversion to coming into court noted in the last days of the reign of Judge Franklin. There was noising to do again today at the court house or the police station. A lad charged with purloining 18 cents from the pocket of another boy was given a 'lecture,' but no charges were made.

RIGHT TO SHIP ARMS ACROSS LINE EXTENDED.

passage of arms to the villians of Villa, who rob, burn and assassinate, or that the directing regime of a cultured people under the influence of a headstrong functionary should become the accomplices of such a horde of outlaws. It continues:

"It appears impossible that President Wilson can be a man devoid of conscience or shame. If the American people approve the stupendous measure of the White House it will deserve the execration of all honorable nations."

RESULT OF WILSON'S ACT.

New Orleans Dealers Prepare for Shipments of Arms to Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—Dealers in war material here today began to prepare supplies for shipments to rebels in northern Mexico, as a result of the decision of President Wilson to lift the embargo on shipments of munitions of war into the southern republic. About 100 men were working at warehouses packing rifles, cartridges and machine guns.

DRIVEN OUT OF MEXICO.

Paymaster's Corps of the Huerta Government Arrives at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—Driven out of northern Mexico by the rebels under General Villa, the paymaster's corps of the Huerta government for the northern military division arrived in New Orleans today en route to Mexico City. The officers were with General Mercado when he fled before General Villa's forces at Ojinaga. They leave tonight for Vera Cruz, via Havana. The detachment is going back to the capital to serve their chief, it is said, in whatever capacity he may call on them.

DID NOT SEE VILLA.

Sandoval, at New Orleans, Prepares to Leave for Havana.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—Jose Donales Sandoval, a lawyer of Mexico City, reported to have been sent on a secret mission from Havana, Cuba, last week, by General Felix Diaz, to induce General Francisco Villa to renounce General Carranza and recognize General Diaz as the leader of the Mexican rebellion, arrived here today from San Antonio, Texas, and prepared to leave for Havana.

Sandoval said he did not see General Villa. He was on his way here, he said, when he read the news of General Villa's execution of Francisco Guzman, who was said to have gone to Juarez in an effort to get General Villa to renounce Carranza. Sandoval said he had no connection with Guzman's visit to Juarez.

THEIR EFFORTS SUCCESSFUL.

Officials of American Embassy Secure Release of Newspaper Employes.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 4.—Officials of the American embassy have been successful in their efforts to secure the release of Miss Victoria Hastings, an American newspaper writer, and Mr. Wallace, a newspaper photographer, who were arrested here last night. Miss Hastings was ordered to appear today before the authorities.

GOVERNMENT-BUILT RAILROADS.

Great Progress Made in Congress Since Leland Stanford's Time.

Southern Statesmen Conservative—Fertile Alaska—Vocational Education.

[Washington correspondence of the News]

WASHINGTON, Feb 3—More than a quarter of century ago Leland Stanford then a multi-millionaire Senator from California one of the big four whom the Pacific railroads created suggested that the United States should build a four-track railroad from the Atlantic to the Pacific Of course the idea was hooted, laughed at in press and forum and men in the Senate winked and said, Old Stanford is doing it at the top About the same time Stanford was giving the page boys of the Senate five dollar gold pieces at Christmas time and indulging in other marks of senility—in the opinion of the conservative element, which controlled that body

The suggestion that the government build such a trans continental railroad line as a freight regulator is made in these days and discussed seriously Truly we have progressed since the days of Leland Stanford

A man born south of Mason and Dixon's line was in the President's chair, and we have a more progressive administration than ever before, not even excepting that of Roosevelt, for he halted at times in the progress of progressivism But it is Southern statesmen who are put thar on the brakes It is Southern statesmen who hesitate about building and operating railroads in Alaska or elsewhere Southern statesmen hold back and protest against wiping out the twilight zone between the states and the federal government The Southern President is progressive the Southern Congressmen are conservative

When Senator Harry Lane of Oregon got through talking about Alaska the Senators who heard him that it was strange that the whole population had not moved up into the big territory

The Senator has given us a beautiful picture of the Alaskan country, remarked Bankhead of Alabama

It is not all that way said Lane apologetically I have been talking especially of favored sections

The Senator has made it all beautiful by his description persisted Bankhead

No it is not all beautiful said Lane

And one might remark right here that if all that has been put in the Congressional Record concerning Alaska was true every quarter section ought to be occupied All the bad things said about it when Seward bought it have been turned inside down

During all the discussion about Alaska it is somewhat surprising that no one has thought to dig up what Senator George Vest said of Alaska soil after having been on an investigating trip to the big territory We found quite a variety of vegetables which had been grown in Alaska said the former Missouri Senator and they were large and luscious looking But when they were cooked they were mostly water A potato had as much water in an ordinary turnip They can grow things in Alaska but they are not good for food Of course there are many regions developed since that time to which the remarks of Vest do not apply

Senator Brandegee of Connecticut was opposing the principle of government ownership and in the course of his remarks pointed out how experienced men were thrown out of employ when another party came into power

Have you see any large movement of that sort going on now? asked John Sharp Williams

Not a large movement replied Brandegee but there have been several attempts

I make the inquiry said Williams pathetically because I have been anxiously awaiting the rising sun of patronage and it has not risen yet

I have not the slightest idea that enough will be relaxed to satisfy the appetite replied Brandegee I think there will be wailing and howling in Mississippi long after they have got all the pie

Congressman Funk of Georgia wants a certain education given to the rising generation of girls in practical duties of the household Such he inserts in a speech printed in the Congressional Record

I venture to say that not one woman in a [illegible] can make a good biscuit a tempting omelet or a cup of coffee or can mend and make a neat stitch shirt for her husband

The Southern President is progressive; the Southern Congressmen are conservative.

When Senator Harry Lane of Oregon got through talking about Alaska the Senators who heard felt that it was strange that the whole population had not moved up into the big territory.

"The Senator has given us a beautiful picture of the Alaskan country," remarked Bankhead of Alabama.

"It is not all that way," said Lane apologetically. "I have been talking especially of favored sections."

"The Senator has made it all beautiful by his description," persisted Bankhead.

"No, it is not all beautiful," said Lane.

And one might remark right here that if all that has been put in the Congressional Record concerning Alaska was true every quarter section ought to be occupied. All the bad things said about it when Seward bought it have been turned upside down.

During all the discussion about Alaska it is somewhat surprising that no one has thought to dig up what Senator George Vest said of Alaska soil after having been on an investigating trip to the big territory. "We found quite a variety of vegetables which had been grown in Alaska," said the former Missouri Senator, "and they were large and luscious looking. But when they were cooked they were mostly water. A potato had as much water as an ordinary turnip. They can grow things in Alaska, but they are not good for food." Of course there are many regions developed since that time to which the remarks of Vest do not apply.

Senator Brandegee of Connecticut was opposing the principle of government ownership and in the course of his remarks pointed out how experienced men were thrown out of employ when another party came into power.

"Have you see any large movement of that sort going on now?" asked John Sharp Williams.

"Not a large movement," replied Brandegee, "but there have been several attempts."

"I make the inquiry," said Williams pathetically "because I have been anxiously awaiting the rising sun of patronage and it has not risen yet."

"I have not the slightest idea that enough will be released to satisfy the appetite," replied Brandegee. "I think there will be wailing and howling in Mississippi long after they have got all they can."

Congressman Park of Georgia wants vocational education given to the rising generation of girls in practical duties of the household. Said he in remarks printed in the Congressional Record:

"I venture to say that not one woman in 25 of our country can make a good biscuit or a tempting cup of coffee, or can measure and make a neat fitting shirt for her husband."

Congressman Madden of Illinois became unparliamentary after he had listened quite a long time to a political debate in the House. "This is pure 'bunk' and nothing else," he said. "We ought to drop it and get along with the bill."

BOSTON LIBRARY NEEDS MORE ROOM.

Lack of room at the Boston Public Library has led the trustees to say in the annual report that "either the policy of the library must change soon or means must be secured for an extension of the present building, and the latter seems the consistent course."

The committee bring to the attention of the city government the suggestion that a strip of land in the rear of the library would be adequate for building purposes for many years, this land being on the Boylston Street end and belonging to Boston University. It measures 28 feet on Boylston street and is 128 feet deep.

DECLARE VOTE WAS ILLEGAL.

Murphy's Friends to Appeal Against His Removal as Leader.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Friends of Charles F. Murphy, whose retirement as leader of Tammany Hall is demanded in a resolution adopted last night by the National Democratic Club, today announced their intention of appealing to the board of governors of the club, on the ground that the yea and nay vote was illegal.

Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall, denounced the action of Edward T. O'Dwyer, president of the club, in refusing to put the question to a rising vote, as "the worst instance of boss rule I ever saw."

The whole proceeding was illegal, Smith declared. It was also announced that another meeting of the club probably will be called and an attempt made to rescind the action taken last night, or declare it illegal. The club's by-laws forbid action on state or municipal politics.

The full membership of the club is 725. Only 125 attended the meeting last night. The board of governors consists of 24 men, most of them independent Democrats.

PUPILS ESCAPE SAFELY.

Fire Breaks Out in the Wendell Phillips School in Boston.

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—Marshalled by the sound of the fire gong, 600 small boys, pupils at the Wendell Phillips school, on Anderson street, filed quietly through smoke-filled hallways of the burning school building and reached the street in safety today. The fire, which was extinguished with little damage, started in a waste paper bin in the basement and quickly filled the building with smoke.

'Tis a weary way, indeed.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney trouble.

Are endorsed by Newport citizens.

Mrs. A. P. Freeborn, 160 Broadway, Newport, R. I., says: "I was distressed with backache almost constantly. When I was on my feet it seemed as if my back would break. I felt worse in the morning. I was always tired and worn-out. I could hardly walk down stairs on account of my back being so lame. Doan's Kidney Pills acted like magic. They brought me relief from the first and the second box did me a wonderful amount of good. My high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills hasn't changed since, I publicly recommended them several years ago. I will always speak well of them."

ECZEMA ITCHED AWFULLY ON HEAD

Thought Would Go Wild. Dry and Flaky. Hair Nearly All Came Out. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Three Months. Head All Cured.

30 Atkinson St., Bellows Falls, Vt. — "I had eczema on my head and it itched something awful. It seemed sometimes as though I would go wild. The eczema was dry and flaky. One day I combed it hard with a fine comb and made it all raw. My hair nearly all came out gradually so I had a small twist of hair and did not use but one hairpin to hold it.

"I tried ——— but in vain; it did no good. Then I thought I would try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used them three months and then my head was all cured and my hair began to grow so it is quite thick now; I have four times as much as I had." (Signed) Mrs. Ellen W. Adams, Nov. 16, 1912.

FOR PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

The following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of these distressing facial eruptions. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

ON CHARGE OF SMUGGLING.

Lucius and William Littauer of New York Fined and Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Lucius N. Littauer, a former Congressman, and his brother, William, were fined $1,000 each and sentenced to six months in jail today for smuggling. The court, however, suspended sentence in the matter of the jail penalty.

The brothers were arraigned in the federal district court before Judge Edwin S. Thomas, having pleaded guilty yesterday to two indictments charging smuggling and conspiracy to defraud. They had admitted bringing into this country, without paying duty valuable jewels purchased in Venice and intended for gifts for William Littauer's wife. United States District Attorney Marshall at the time of the plea urged that the full penalty of the law be imposed and pointed out that Lucius Littauer, as a glove manufacturer, had benefitted by the protective tariff.

PRESIDENT OF PERU TAKEN PRISONER.

Premier Varola Killed in Attack Made on the Palace.

Former Revolutionary Leader Expected to Form New Government.

LIMA, Peru., Feb. 4—The President of the republic of Peru Guiermo Billinghurst, was taken prisoner today by military revolutionists, who attacked the presidential palace under the leadership of Colonel Benavides.

President Billinghurst was later taken by the rebels as a prisoner to Callao, from which port he will be sent into exile.

General Enrique Varola, premier and minister of war and marine, was killed in the fighting.

Dr. Augusto Durand, a former revolutionary leader whose arrest was sought by the police yesterday took possession of the palace and it is generally believed that he will form a new government.

The attack on the palace began at 4.30 a. m. Thousands of the inhabitants of Lima dashed into the streets, alarmed by the firing. The soldiers were ordered to fire volleys into the air in order to prevent the formation of crowds in the streets, and this order kept the people moving from place to place In the vicinity of San Pedro Church a civilian was killed by a bullet.

Great alarm prevailed throughout the city, and banks and stores were closed and private houses barricaded The street cars, however, began running before noon.

Dr. Augusto Durand, who today seized the reins of power in Peru from President Billinghurst, has led several revolutions in that republic. He fought against President Pardo in 1908 and against President Leguia in 1909. After his followers had been defeated and had surrendered to the government troops in the latter year, Dr. Durand escaped to Chili, but he returned to Peru some time later and continued conspiring against the goverment. Dr. Durand was generally supposed to be the leader of the agitation against President Billinghurst, whose introduction of economic reforms in the government of Peru was not agreeable to many of the citizens.

At the end of last year Congress refused to vote the budget and President Billinghurst issued a decree declaring that the estimates would remain in force till the end of 1914. Petitions from many of the provinces were presented to the president asking for the dissolution of Congress but all the political parties opposed this step as unconstitutional.

President Billinghurst now a prisoner is the son of an Englishman, but was born in Peru. His mother was a Peruvian woman. The president was born about 1860. In 1868 his father was drowned in a tidal wave. Young Billinghurst was educated in Peruvian schools and was a brilliant scholar. He wrote several books in his early manhood. He took an active part in the war between Peru and Chili and later became mayor of Lima. He became president in September 1912.

THEODORE'S MANIFESTO.

Will Re-Organize Followers and March on Port au Prince.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, Feb. 4.—Senator Davilmar Theodore, who was signally defeated at Gonaives Monday by General Orestes Zamor, returned to Cape Haytien today. He immediately published a manifesto stating that he would retain the title of commander-in-chief of the revolutionary forces and would re-organize his followers and march on Port au Prince, the capital.

Guarantees for the security of foreigners were given today by Senator Theodore to the commander of United States survey ship Eagle, and to the members of the consular corps.

General Hannibal Bollard and his brother, both supporters of the government, have taken refuge in a foreign consulate

ZAMORS IN CONTROL.

Establishment of a Provisional Government Their Purpose.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—State Department advices today are that the Zamor brothers are apparently in complete control of the revolutionary situation in Hayti. Following the repulse of Davilmar Theodore at Gonaives, a committee of eight has been dispatched to Port au Prince by Oreste Zamor, asking permission from the local authorities to enter the city. Should the reply be favorable, it is thought that Zamor would be in the capital by Friday or Saturday. The purpose of Zamor is said to be to establish a provisional government and await the action of the National Assembly.

ON CHARGE OF BRIBERY.

Cassidy, Willet, and Walter Fined and Sentenced to Prison.

NEW YORK, Feb 4—Joseph Cassidy, a former Democratic boss of Queens county, and William Willett, a former Congressman, were sentenced today to serve a year and six months in Sing Sing prison, and to pay $1,000 fines. Louis T. Walter, Jr., a politician, was sentenced to three months and fined $1,000. Willett was convicted of paying a bribe to Cassidy for a supreme court nomination Walter was the go-between.

Walter's counsel told the court that his client had no money and that therefore, the fine imposed would mean that he would have to serve an extra sentence of nearly three years. Justice Jay Cox said that at the end of the three months the prisoner might make representations regarding the condition of his affairs and a new arrangement might then be made.

Counsel for the three defendants said that they would apply some time today for an order to show cause why a certificate of doubt should not operate automatically as a stay of sentence. Other preparations they said had been made for an appeal. Should the sentence stand, the greatest length of time Cassidy and Willett would have to serve is a year and six months, but by good behavior they might shorten their terms to a year.

ON CHARGE OF SMUGGLING.

Lucius and William Littauer of New York Fined and Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Lucius N. Littauer, a former Congressman, and his brother, William, were fined $1,000 each and sentenced to six months in jail today for smuggling. The court, however, suspended sentence in the matter of the jail penalty.

The brothers were arraigned in the federal district court before Judge Edwin S. Thomas, having pleaded guilty yesterday to two indictments charging smuggling and conspiracy to defraud. They had admitted bringing into this country, without paying duty valuable jewels purchased in Venice and intended for gifts for William Littauer's wife. United States District Attorney Marshall at the time of the plea urged that the full penalty of the law be imposed and pointed out that Lucius Littauer, as a glove manufacturer, had benefited by the protective tariff.

MEMORIAL TO GENERAL KEARNY.

Equestrian Statue to be Erected in Arlington National Cemetery.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—An equestrian statue of Major General Phil Kearny, killed in the battle of Chantilly, Va., in 1862, is to be erected in Arlington National Cemetery by the state of New Jersey with the approval of Secretary Garrison. It will be the first equestrian statue to be erected in the cemetery. In addition to the name and service of General Kearny, the pedestal will contain this inscription: "He gave for his country his left arm at Churubusco, Mexico, August 19, 1847; his life at Chantilly, Va., September 1, 1862."

MATERIAL FOR HULL ON HAND.

BATH, Maine, Feb. 4.—About one-third of the frames for the America's cup contestant Defiance have been bent, and all the material for the completion of the hull is already on hand at the plant of the Bath Iron Works. The moulds into which the lead bulb for the keel of the sloop was poured will be removed soon; then the lead will be smoothed off with planes.

PRESIDENT OF PERU TAKEN PRISONER.

Premier Varola Killed in Attack Made on the Palace.

Former Revolutionary Leader Expected to Form New Government.

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 4.—The President of the republic of Peru, Guiermo Billinghurst, was taken prisoner today by military revolutionists, who attacked the presidential palace under the leadership of Colonel Benavides.

President Billinghurst was later taken by the rebels as a prisoner to Callao, from which port he will be sent into exile.

General Enrique Varola, premier and minister of war and marine, was killed in the fighting.

Dr. Augusto Durand, a former revolutionary leader whose arrest was sought by the police yesterday took possession of the palace, and it is generally believed that he will form a new government.

The attack on the palace began at 4.30 a. m. Thousands of the inhabitants of Lima dashed into the streets, alarmed by the firing. The soldiers were ordered to fire volleys into the air in order to prevent the formation of crowds in the streets, and this order kept the people moving from place to place. In the vicinity of San Pedro Church a civilian was killed by a bullet.

Great alarm prevailed throughout the city, and banks and stores were closed and private houses barricaded. The street cars, however, began running before noon.

Dr. Augusto Durand, who today seized the reins of power in Peru from President Billinghurst, has led several revolutions in that republic. He fought against President Pardo in 1908 and against President Legula in 1909. After his followers had been defeated and had surrendered to the government troops in the latter year, Dr. Durand escaped to Chili, but he returned to Peru some time later and continued conspiring against the goverment. Dr. Durand was generally supposed to be the leader of the agitation against President Billinghurst, whose introduction of economic reforms in the government of Peru was not agreeable to many of the citizens.

At the end of last year Congress refused to vote the budget and President Billinghurst issued a decree declaring that the estimates would remain in force till the end of 1914. Petitions from many of the provinces were presented to the president asking for the dissolution of Congress but all the political parties opposed this step as unconstitutional.

President Billinghurst now a prisoner is the son of an Englishman, but was born in Peru. His mother was a Peruvian woman. The president was born about 1860. In 1868 his father was drowned in a tidal wave. Young Billinghurst was educated in Peruvian schools and was a brilliant scholar. He wrote several books in his early manhood. He took an active part in the war between Peru and Chili and later became mayor of Lima. He became president in September 1912.

THEODORE'S MANIFESTO.

Will Re-Organize Followers and March on Port au Prince.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, Feb. 4.—Senator Davilmar Theodore, who was signally defeated at Gonaives Monday by General Orestes Zamor, returned to Cape Haytien today. He immediately published a manifesto stating that he would retain the title of commander-in-chief of the revolutionary forces and would re-organize his followers and march on Port au Prince, the capital.

Guarantees for the security of foreigners were given today by Senator Theodore to the commander of United States survey ship Eagle, and to the members of the consular corps.

General Hannibal Boliard and his brother, both supporters of the government, have taken refuge in a foreign consulate.

ZAMORS IN CONTROL.

Establishment of a Provisional Government Their Purpose.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—State Department advices today are that the Zamor brothers are apparently in complete control of the revolutionary situation in Hayti. Following the repulse of Davilmar Theodore at Gonaives, a committee of eight has been dispatched to Port au Prince by Oreste Zamor, asking permission from the local authorities to enter the city. Should the reply be favorable, it is thought that Zamor would be in the capital by Friday or Saturday. The purpose of Zamor is said to be to establish a provisional government and await the action of the National Assembly.

EARTHQUAKE RELIEF WORK

Commander Belknap Lectures on Greatness of American Enterprise

In the parlors of St John's Church Tuesday evening, before a good sized audience Commander R R Belknap U S N gave an interesting lecture illustrated by stereopticon slides on Earthquake Relief Work Doing Americans in Italy in 1909 being introduced by Rev C T Lewis the rector

The earthquake occurred December 28 1908 in Messina 1000 being killed instantly The city over the city and in Reggio across the strait was heart rending and lightning rain fires and the appearance of cutthroats on the scene followed Not six buildings in the city were unimpaired and not 12 were safe to occupy The Italian army and navy were able to preserve order and did valiant unselfish work

Food clothing and houses were needed immediately and Queen Helena started her model settlement of 75 cottages Mr Lloyd Griscom American ambassador at Rome began the relief work prominent in which were the late Richard Cushing Jr and Major Langhorne Sturdy January 2 1909 the American Relief Committee was organized with 5 000 francs ($1 000) at its disposal for food and 10 000 francs ($2000) for clothing Later $5 000 francs ($1 000) was received The Bremen North German Lloyd steamer was chartered by the Americans as relief ship and sailed to Reggio Palermo and Syracuse Commander Belknap was the American naval officer in charge of the construction work spoke of the Italians Mrs Kathe B Davis who was doing nursing in Syracuse and who was recently appointed commissioner of charities and corrections in New York

In addition to all kinds of supplies the Americans furnished lumber for shanties and displaced down the streets of the Italian towns On January 17 the relief expedition was back in Rome having completed a vivid spectacular enterprise for which Congress contributed $800 000

After the emergency and first relief came that of rehabilitating Two room cottages requiring as little skill and labor as possible were built 10 portable houses being sent The cottages were not as attractive nor more expensive than the others Naval carpenters and men from America and Switzerland directed the work Dr John Elliot Curtis building in the relief work Schools for the people a hospital church and hotel were built on at least a small scale the Americans had built to the end of the disaster having erected 1900 cottages and 12 larger buildings

At the close of the lecture stereopticon views were shown indicating the greatness of the American enterprise which was fully appreciated by the Italian government

Mr Philip Dawkins of this city and wife Mrs Dawkins engaged in the relief work was present at the lecture

"DELIVERS THE GOODS."

Dr. Cairns Pronounces Doom of the Legalized Liquor Traffic.

Large Meeting Under Auspices of the Allied Temperance Forces of Rhode Island.

The legalized liquor traffic admits that it has had sentence of death pronounced upon it and that the day of execution is very near Such was one of the messages brought to Newport by Dr Alex T Cairns Tuesday evening As one proof of his statement he cited a letter of a leader, who appealed to his fellow liquor dealers to urge a measure for national prohibition, with the proviso that it become effective in 10 years and that part of the revenue of that period be set aside to reimburse the dealers who would quit at the end of that time

There was a good-sized and appreciative audience at the Young Men's Christian Association hall for the meeting under the auspices of the allied temperance forces of Rhode Island There were clergymen, Prohibitionists members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union Sons of Temperance and representatives of the Anti Saloon League A considerable number came from beyond the city limits and all showed their appreciation by applause and a generous contribution Much had been claimed for the speaker, but it was admitted by all that he delivered the goods

Rev Joseph Cooper presided and there was good singing by the audience Rev E I Wells of Middletown read a Scripture selection and Rev Arthur Crane of the First Baptist John Clarke Memorial Church offered prayer Mr A B Cristy of the Anti Saloon League in introducing the speaker of the evening spoke of the great convention of 92 different temperance organizations at Columbus November 14 last Seeing Mr Arch Hildreth in the audience he said that in Mr Hildreth's late time all the legal battles against intemperance have been fought Three times Rhode Island had had state wide prohibition the first being a period of 12 years from 1851 to 1863

Now 47 000 000 of the 92 000 000 of the United States live under prohibition which governs 71 per cent of the territory and there are 11 full fledged prohibition states Uncle Joe Cannon lost the Speakership and then his membership in Congress by opposing prohibition The first measure in 30 years to be passed over the President's veto was one of the temperance bills for which a Rhode Island representative voted against much pressure on its merits Three times Hobson's bill for prohibition was killed in committee but now Bartholdt himself a brewer for 20 years and the leader of the liquor forces in Washington has been laughed and ridiculed off the floor of the House and was glad to sit down when but 10 minutes of his allotted hour was passed and he has decided that he will not run for re election

Mr Cristy said Governor Pothier had asked him if he ever smiled Evidently the hint was taken for Mr Cristy never was more entertaining and effective in a speech here

Dr Cairns spoke all too briefly He complimented Rhode Island as the pioneer state the first to get together in the national set together temperance campaign Hearkened to Lyman Beecher 100 years ago the first shot for a saloonless nation which was followed by pledge signing evangelism etc Paying an eloquent tribute to woman and the Women's Christian Temperance Union the central calm of the Prohibition cyclone he said a thinking public is the worst enemy the saloon can have He quoted Victor Hugo's statement that as the swiftness of a soldier's bullet compares to that of a ray of light so was Napoleon to Jesus

Half the saloons of America are in five states a quarter are in six cities There are more saloons in New York City than in 36 whole states It is predicted that the present Congress will pass the bill for constitutional prohibition and 25 states are said to be ready to jump at the chance to vote for it The audience applauded the eloquent statement that true democracy is squared against the liquor traffic Justice says the saloon is not fair to the people or the state and is demanding Let my people go

The social problem is solved with the liquor problem New York has 60 millionaires The pauper population is increasing five times as rapidly as the whole population Twenty million persons are a burden for charity Twenty fourth family is ejected for non-payment of rent every year 45 000 children are partially (or literally) starving 400 families live in cellars and attics there were 90 000 homeless in the fearful zero weather of last month Is it any wonder there is a murder every day and other crimes are so frequent There are 13 000 saloons—one for every 40 families—in New York and a million dollars are spent every day for drink What a fund was turned into New York home what social energy In 1910 1700 girls were lost on trains between New York and Chicago One glass of beer is sometimes enough to make a girl consent to her ruin

The saloon is very much out of date It belongs in the den of lions of the Sixteenth century Its hand of greed is dripping with blood Its presence shows that midnight is still over the intelligence of the people An evil once destroyed never returns and this once conquered will never again lift its dark frowning head to insult the intelligence of the people The saloon is but a hang-dog beggar at the gate and is making its maudlin plea for longer existence The common good of everybody brings solution

Robert E Lee and his brave comrades never fought for slavery they fought for their firesides a new solution is now demanded The Man of Sorrows sits over against America and laments the violence done the messengers of temperance the forgotten message from that of Abraham Lincoln Down He says the American people will not fully see Him until they banish the saloon The final words on motherhood and the suffering of children from the blight of the saloon were eloquent

Many of those present signed cards of subscription towards an educational temperance campaign

The report of the inspector of nuisances for January, which was received showed 366 inspections made

A petition was received from Elizabeth L Betton, J J Mason R J H Fowel, A B Emmons and B F Carter asking for a street light on Gibbs avenue south of Catherine street. It was sent to the Committee of Twenty-Five

The overseers of the City Asylum reported three bids received January 29 for supplying groceries and meats to the Asylum They recommended that the contract be given to White & Gladding The three bids as figured up were as follows White & Gladding $993 40 P H Horgan $973 30 F Fred Kaull $1 051 50

The bids were not ready, but Alderman Leddy of the overseers reported that White & Gladding did not make the lowest bid Mr Horgan's was $20 lower but the keeper said there were many complaints against the goods supplied by Mr Horgan the past year and articles had to be sent back three and four times Mr Hanley said a barrel of pork sent back has been sent out again by the contractor several times The contract did not call for flank corned beef but there is some at the Asylum now

Mr Hughes asked if Mr Horgan had an opportunity to defend himself against these charges, and was told that he did not Mr Hughes thought he ought to be given a chance So did Mr Kelly Mr Leddy said White & Gladding had given satisfaction when they had the contract before Mr Hanley said Mr Horgan had given satisfaction before this year It was finally voted to lay the matter on the table until Thursday and give Mr Horgan an opportunity to appear before the board

Chief Kirwin desired permission to sell a wagon and one horse The two horses of Combination 2 have been placed at Truck 1 and one of the horses from the truck house will be kept as spare one he wished to sell Mr Kelly thought it would be better to keep the pair It would cost as much to hire a horse if one were needed as it would to feed them The chief said that not in three years had it been necessary to hire a horse to supply as only one had been sick or off at a time and he thought one spare horse would do The wagon is the practice wagon of Combination 2 for which there is now no storage place The horse and wagon will be sold at auction In answer to Mr Kelly the chief said the expenditures for extra horse hire were for carrying hose and coal and not for horses to replace those laid off It was finally voted to authorize the sale of the horse and wagon and Alderman Leddy and Chief Kirwin were authorized to do the selling

The board adjourned

FEARED THERE WAS A FIRE.

Passenger on a Car Alarmed at Seeing the University Extension Crowd.

A lecturer on such a theme as Socrates rarely has the satisfaction of having the crowds leaving the hall at the close mistaken for the gathering at a fire and it speaks equally well for the popularity of the speaker and for the taste of the community that such was the experience of Mr Holborn in the University Extension course last Thursday evening. A passenger on the Fall River car was rushing excitedly toward the rear door when he met Mr Holborn entering and inquired the reason for the crowds pouring from the Rogers High School entrance Whether Mr Holborn's answer that he had just been delivering a lecture on Greek thought, was a disappointment to his questioner, it highly amused the other passengers many of whom had attended the lecture Mr Holborn would probably say that such occurrences were the common thing in ancient Athens.

GOOD CORN SPECIMENS.

Professor Allen to Judge Local Exhibits and Lecture on Culture

Professor Allen of the Rhode Island State College will come there Saturday to judge the exhibits at the local corn show at H L Marsh & Co's Broadway store That evening he will talk on the culture of corn and give those attending such information as they may ask for

The show which has been in progress several weeks, is no spectacular display, but the counter devoted to the purpose contains more than 60 specimens and as an exhibition of seed corn is said to be superior to that at the Rhode Island show in Providence The exhibit has been carried on in a quiet way and the general public naturally has not been attracted to it but those who raise corn have been paying it considerable attention and it is anticipated that many will be there to listen to the instructive talk

NEW OPERA HOUSE BILL.

"The Lion and the Mouse" to be Shown for the Week-End.

The Secret of the old Cabinet the feature picture of the new bill at the Opera House, is rich in military scenes As a sensation there is the rescue of a child which has fallen over a high cliff calling for much daring on the part of the young man who does the deed Then there are a race between motor boats and a wild dash by an automobile, all of which goes to make the picture a stirring one In addition there will be the Universal program of comedy and tragedy

For the week-end will be shown 'The Lion and the Mouse, taken from the play by that name By its display on the screen one is able in a few minutes to gather the whole story without the effort of hours of reading from a book or paying a high price to see the play enacted

ANOTHER PLEA FOR FAITHFUL NED

To the Editor of the News

No money is spared to send committees to other cities near or far to learn what is done and how to do it in order that Newport may keep up with the times If for the sake of economy and to follow precedent a committee should only go as far as Boston, they could learn that fire horses also city department horses are pensioned and cared for properly the rest of their lives But as the excursion would cost as much as faithful old Ned would bring into the fire department at auction I earnestly ask that those in whose power it lies see that Ned is humanely shot and then submit an ordinance to the Representative Council that all future disabled fire horses be pensioned and cared for in a manner creditable to our boasted progress

NEWPORT'S MAIL SERVICE.

Morning Distribution to Postoffice Being Made as Early as Possible.

Congressman O'Shaunessy Assured of Best Possible Schedule for Summer Months.

Congressman O'Shaunessy has received from the second assistant Postmaster General a letter which shows that the Postoffice Department is endeavoring to give the people of Newport the earliest possible distribution of mail in the morning and to secure the best possible facilities for this city not only in the winter but in the summer The letter, which goes considerably into details regarding the work, is as follows

Hon George F O'Shaunessy, House of Representatives Washington, D C.

My dear Sir Reference is again made to the letter addressed to you by Mr M A Sullivan, attorney at law, Newport, R. I, enclosing petitions in substance that the railway postal clerk who distributes on the Boston, Providence & New York R P O trains the city mail for Newport be required to accompany such mail from Wickford Junction to Wickford Landing by electric cars thence to Newport by steamboat, and that the clerk perform city distribution while en route on the steamer

The mail in question leaves Wickford Junction at 6 10 a m and is due at Newport at 7 20 a m, and that part of the time when the mail is on the steamer is so short that the amount of mail that could be distributed is almost negligible Instructions have been issued to the clerk on trains 20 and 30 to have the city distribution for Newport completed before the mail is dispatched from the train at Wickford Junction, and, with this done there would be no distribution to be made on the steamboat and the mail would not be advanced by being accompanied by a clerk

The question of advancing the mail to Newport has had very careful consideration by the officers of the railway mail service, and under existing train schedules there does not appear to be any way in which such mail can be delivered earlier to the Newport office The connection is now made direct from train 24 to Newport This train reaches Wickford Junction at present about 15 minutes later than formerly, which has caused some complaint, but the railroad officials claim that it was necessary to lengthen the schedule of train 34 However the company has consented to give the superintendent railway mail service, a further hearing with reference to the schedule of this train before the summer changes are made which will be in about two months and you may be assured that every effort will be made to secure the best possible schedule for the postal service

Very truly yours,
Joseph Stewart,
Second Assistant Postmaster General

USELESS EXPENSE.

First Warder Would Have Holding of Special Election Prohibited.

To the Editor of the Daily News

Since the recent report of the general treasurer of the state of Rhode Island shows that the members of the General Assembly spend the people's money very easily and lavishly would it not be well for them to save money occasionally and is there not an excellent opportunity for some of our local representatives to the General Assembly to save money for the taxpayers of Newport by impressing upon the house judiciary committee that it would be an unwarranted and useless expense to recommend the holding of a special election on their proposed amendments to the city charter

EARTHQUAKE RELIEF WORK

Commander Belknap Lectures on Greatness of American Enterprise.

In the parish house of St. John's Church Tuesday evening, before a good-sized audience, Commander R. R. Belknap, U. S. N., gave an interesting lecture, illustrated by stereopticon slides, on "Earthquake Relief Work Done by Americans in Italy in 1909," being introduced by Rev. C. F. Heartle, the rector.

The earthquake occurred December 28, 1908, in Messina, 1,000 being killed instantly. The cry over the city, and in Reggio across the strait, was heart-rending and lightning, rain, fires and the appearance of earthroats on the scene followed. Not six buildings in the city were uninjured and not 12 were safe to occupy. The Italian army and navy were able to preserve order and did valiant, unselfish work.

Food, clothing and houses were needed immediately and Queen Helena started her model settlement of 75 cottages. Mr. Lloyd Griscom, American ambassador at Rome, began the relief work, prominent in which were the late Bayard Cutting, Jr., and Major Landis. Saturday, January 2, 1909, the American Relief Committee was organized, with 25,000 francs ($5,000) at its disposal for food and 10,000 francs ($2000) for clothing. Later 85,000 francs ($17,000) was received. The Bion, a North German Lloyd steamer, was chartered by the Americans, as a relief ship and sailed to Reggio, Palermo and Syracuse. Commander Belknap, who as American naval attache in Italy was in charge of the construction work, spoke of the labors of Miss Katherine B. Davis, who was visiting in Syracuse and who was recently appointed commissioner of charities and corrections in New York.

In addition to all kinds of supplies the Americans furnished lumber for 25 shanties and also tore down the steerage bunks of the Bion for the same purpose. January 17 the relief expedition was back in Rome, having completed a dashing, spectacular enterprise for which Congress contributed $800,000.

After the emergency and first relief work came that of rehabilitating. Two-room, one-story cottages requiring as little skill and labor as possible were built. 49 portable houses being sent. These, however, were not as satisfactory and more expensive than the others. Naval carpenters and men from America and Switzerland directed the work. Dr John Elliott, the artist, aiding in the relief. Besides the houses for the people, a hospital, church and hotel were built, or at least begun. By July 1 all the Americans had left the scene of the disaster, having erected 1900 cottages and 12 larger buildings.

At the close of the lecture stereopticon slides were shown, indicating the greatness of the American enterprise, which was fully appreciated by the Italian government.

Mr. Philip Dowling of this city, who went to Messina to engage in the construction work, was present at the lecture.

THE SCHREIER RECEPTION.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Please permit the committee on the reception to be given tomorrow evening in the Shiloh Baptist Church in honor of Mr. Eugene Schreier to say that for more than 20 years Mr. Schreier lived and did business in this city. All these years he was interested in Newport's welfare. We feel that Newport lost a good citizen when he moved to Norfolk, Va., where he is carrying on a large business.

In this reception tendered Mr. Schreier the committee feels that they are expressing Newport's appreciation for the valuable service Mr. Schreier rendered the city while here.

Rev. H. N. Jeter, Dr. M. F. Wheatland, A. Hurley, Sergeant R. F. Morrell, A. J. Tabb, Dr. William H. Mathews, J. P. Sanborn, W. G. Landers, William H. Jackson, George Jenkens, Rev. Dr. T. W. Henderson, Rev. C. L. Miller, E. E. Stewart, Committee.

ART ASSOCIATION'S FIRST WINTER EXHIBITION.

Much interest is felt in the Art Association's winter exhibition, which will open Thursday afternoon and continue through Thursday, Friday and Saturday, from 2 until 6 o'clock. It is hoped that the pictures will be on exhibition for at least one evening, for the benefit of those who are engaged during the entire afternoon. The members of the committee in charge are Mr. Elijah Baxter, chairman; Mr. Charles Blesel, Mrs. J. W. Burgess, Mr. John Elliott, Mrs. F. M. Greenlaw, Miss M. E. Parish and Mrs. W. F. Price, secretary. According to the hospitable traditions of the Art Association, tea will be served during the afternoon, the hostess for the first day being Mrs. John W. Burgess. The admission is free and no tickets are required.

"DELIVERS THE GOODS."

Dr. Cairns Pronounces Doom of the Legalized Liquor Traffic.

Large Meeting Under Auspices of the Allied Temperance Forces of Rhode Island.

The legalized liquor traffic admits that it has had sentence of death pronounced upon it, and that the day of execution is very near. Such was one of the messages brought to Newport by Dr. Alex T. Cairns Tuesday evening. As one proof of his statement he cited a letter of a leader, who appealed to his fellow liquor dealers to urge a measure for national prohibition, with the proviso that it become effective in 10 years and that part of the revenue of that period be set aside to reimburse the dealers who would quit at the end of that time.

There was a good-sized and appreciative audience at the Young Men's Christian Association hall, for the meeting under the auspices of the alliied temperance forces of Rhode Island. There were clergymen, Prohibitionists, members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Sons of Temperance and representatives of the Anti-Saloon League. A considerable number came from beyond the city limits, and all showed their appreciation, by applause and a generous contribution. Much had been claimed for the speaker, but it was admitted by all that he "delivered the goods."

Rev. Joseph Cooper presided, and there was good singing by the audience. Rev. E. E. Wells of Middletown read a Scripture selection and Rev. Arthur Crane of the First Baptist John Clarke Memorial Church offered prayer. Mr. A. B. Cristy of the Anti Saloon League, in introducing the speaker of the evening, spoke of the great convention of 92 different temperance organizations at Columbus November 14 last. Seeing Mr. Ara Hildreth in the audience, he said that in Mr. Hildreth's life-time all the legal battles against intemperance have been fought. Three times Rhode Island had had state-wide prohibition, the first being a period of 12 years, from 1851 to 1863.

Now 47,000,000 of the 92,000,000 of the United States live under prohibition, which governs 71 per cent of the territory, and there are 11 full-fledged prohibition states. Uncle Joe Cannon lost the Speakership, and then his membership in Congress, by opposing prohibition. The first measure in 30 years to be passed over the President's veto was one of the temperance bills for which a Rhode Island representative voted, against much pressure, "on its merits." Three times Hobson's bill for prohibition was killed in committee, but now Bartholdt, himself a brewer for 20 years and the leader of the liquor forces in Washington, has been laughed and ridiculed off the floor of the House and was glad to sit down when but 15 minutes of his allotted hour was passed; and he has decided that he will not run for re-election.

Mr. Cristy said Governor Pothier had asked him if he ever smiled. Evidently the hint was taken, for Mr. Cristy never was more entertaining and effective in a speech here.

Dr. Cairns spoke all too briefly. He complimented Rhode Island as the pioneer state, the first to "get together" in the national "get together" temperance campaign. He traced to Lyman Beecher, 100 years ago, the first shot for a saloonless nation, which was followed by pledge signing, evangelism, etc. Paying an eloquent tribute to woman and the Women's Christian Temperance Union, "the central calm of the Prohibition cyclone," he said a thinking public is the worst enemy the saloon can have. He quoted Victor Hugo's statement that as the swiftness of a soldier's bullet compares to that of a ray of light, so was Napoleon to Jesus.

Half the saloons of America are in four states; a quarter are in six cities. There are more saloons in New York city than in 36 whole states. It is predicted that the present Congress will pass the bill for constitutional prohibition, and 28 states are said to be ready to jump at the chance to vote for it. The audience applauded the eloquent statement that true democracy is squared against the liquor traffic. Justice says the saloon is not fair to the people or the state and is demanding "Let my people go"

The social problem is solved with the liquor problem. New York has 5000 millionaires. The pauper population is increasing five times as rapidly as the whole population. Every ninteeth person is a subject of charity; every fourteenth family is ejected for non-payment of rent, every year; 48,000 children are partially (or literally) starving; 25,000 families live in cellars and attics; there were 90,000 homeless in the fearful zero weather of last month. Is it any wonder there is a murder every day and other crimes are so frequent? There are 13,000 saloons—one for every 30 families—in New York, and a million dollars are spent every day for drink. What if this sum were turned into New York homes? what social frenzy! In 1910, 1700 girls were lost on trains between New York and Chicago. One glass of beer is sometimes enough to make a girl consent to her ruin.

The saloon is very much out of date. It belongs in the den of lions of the sixteenth century. Its hand of greed is dripping with blood. Its presence shows that midnight is still over the intelligence of the people. An evil, once destroyed, never returns, and this one, once conquered, will never again rear its dark, frowning head, to insult the intelligence of the people. The saloon is today a hang-dog beggar at the gate and is making its maudlin plea for longer existence. The common good, "everybodyism," brings sobriety.

Robert E. Lee and his brave comrades never fought for slavery; they fought for their firesides; a new abolition is now demanded. The Man of Sorrows sits over against America, and laments the violence done the messengers of temperance, their forgotten message from that of Abraham Lincoln down. He says the American people will not fully see Him, until they banish the saloon. The final words on motherhood, and the suffering of child life from the blight of the saloon, were eloquent.

Many of those present signed cards of subscription towards an educational temperance campaign.

HORGAN TO HAVE A HEARING.

Aldermen Do Not Approve Rejection of His Bid for Asylum Supplies

T. L. S. Weaver Selected as Architect for the Coggeshall School Addition.

The Board of Aldermen held the first monthly meeting for the year Tuesday evening. Mayor Boyle presiding and all the members present. Before the meeting the committee on the Coggeshall School addition met with the building committee of the School Committee and voted to select Thomas L. S. Weaver as architect. The board later approved this action. The board did not approve the action of the overseers of the poor in awarding the contract for food supplies for the Asylum to White & Gladding when P. H. Horgan was the lowest bidder and action was deferred until Thursday, when Mr. Horgan will have an opportunity to be heard. Other matters of routine were disposed of. There was a revolt on the part of some of the inhabitants of Guerney court against junk shops.

After the audit of the bills finance report No. 1 was approved and the following amounts were ordered paid from the several appropriations named:

|---|---|
| Board of Health | $1,145.50 |

| Dog fund | 71.60 |
| Statistical department | 169.00 |
| Touro Synagogue fund | 22.66 |
| | $14,422.56 |

The bill of the American La France Fire Engine Company, for $5,500, for the automobile combination for No. 2 was approved and ordered paid.

The report of the street commissioner for 4½ weeks, ending January 28, was received. It showed expenditures of $3,326.48 for labor and $512.05 for material, a total of $3,768.53.

The report of the inspector of nuisances for January, which was received, showed 566 inspections made.

A petition was received from Elizabeth L. Botton, J. J. Mason, R. J. H. Powel, A. B. Emmons and B. F. Carter, asking for a street light on Gibbs avenue south of Catherine street. It was sent to the Committee of Twenty-Five.

The overseers of the City Asylum reported three bids received January 29 for supplying groceries and meats to the Asylum. They recommended that the contract be given to White & Gladding. The three bids, as figured up, were as follows: White & Gladding $993.10, P. H. Horgan $973.39 T. Fred Kaull $1,051.50.

The bids were not ready, but Alderman Leddy, of the overseers, reported that White & Gladding did not make the lowest bid. Mr. Horgan's was $20 lower, but the keeper said there were many complaints against the goods supplied by Mr. Horgan the past year and articles had to be sent back three and four times. Mr. Hanley said a barrel of pork sent back had been sent out again by the contractor several times. The contract did not call for flank corned beef, but there is some at the Asylum now.

Mr. Hughes asked if Mr. Horgan had an opportunity to defend himself against these charges, and was told that he did not. Mr. Hughes thought he ought to be given a chance. So did Mr. Kelly. Mr. Leddy said White & Gladding had given satisfaction when they had the contract before. Mr. Hanley said Mr. Horgan had given satisfaction before this year. It was finally voted to lay the matter on the table until Thursday and give Mr. Horgan an opportunity to appear before the board.

A remonstrance was received from H. F. Huxby and six others against granting a license to Samuel Dannin to keep a junk shop in the rear of 10 Guerney court. There are now two junk shops in this court. The remonstrance was received.

Applications were received from Victor Danin for a junk gatherer's license and a junk shop license on Guerney court. Mr. Hanley said this junk shop or junk barn was on the court before the other inhabitants know about it. Both applications were laid on the table.

The annual report of the dog constable was received. It showed that he had "destroyed" 350 dogs during the year.

David Goldburg was given renewals of his junk gatherer's and junk shop license.

The petition of Mary L. Dodge and nine others, for a granolithic sidewalk on the south side of Newport avenue between Warner and Channing streets, was referred to the Committee of Twenty-Five.

Mr Hughes reported that the committee on the Coggeshall School addition had met with the building committee of the School Committee and selected Thomas L. S. Weaver as architect for the addition, and asked approval of the selection. The board voted to approve the action.

Chief Kirwin desired permission to sell a wagon and one horse. The two horses of Combination 2 have been placed at Truck 1 and one of the horses from the truck house will be kept as spare; one he wished to sell. Mr. Kelly thought it would be better to keep the pair. It would cost as much to hire a horse if one were needed as it would to feed them. The chief said that not in three years had it been necessary to hire a horse to supply, as only one had been sick or off at a time, and he thought one spare horse would do. The wagon is the practice wagon of Combination 2, for which there is now no storage place. The horse and wagon will be sold at auction. In answer to Mr. Kelly the chief said the expenditures for extra horse hire were for carrying hose and coal, and not for horses to replace those laid off. It was finally voted to authorize the sale of the horse and wagon and Alderman Leddy and Chief Kirwin were authorized to do the selling.

The board adjourned.

FEARED THERE WAS A FIRE.

Passenger on a Car Alarmed at Seeing the University Extension Crowd.

A lecturer on such a theme as Socrates rarely has the satisfaction of having the crowds leaving the hall at the close mistaken for the gathering at a fire, and it speaks equally well for the popularity of the speaker and for the taste of the community that such was the experience of Mr. Holborn in the University Extension course last Thursday evening. A passenger on the Fall River car was rushing excitedly toward the rear door when he met Mr. Holborn entering and inquired the reason for the crowds pouring from the Rogers High School entrance. Whether Mr. Holborn's answer, that he had just been delivering a lecture on Greek thought, was a disappointment to his questioner, it highly amused the other passengers, many of whom had attended the lecture. Mr. Holborn would probably say that such occurrences were the common thing in ancient Athens.

GOOD CORN SPECIMENS.

Professor Allen to Judge Local Exhibits and Lecture on Culture.

Professor Allen of the Rhode Island State College will come there Saturday to judge the exhibits at the local corn show at H. L. Marsh & Co.'s Broadway store. That evening he will talk on the culture of corn and give those attending such information as they may ask for.

The show, which has been in progress several weeks, is no spectacular display, but the counter devoted to the purpose contains more than 60 specimens and as an exhibition of seed corn is said to be superior to that at the Rhode Island show in Providence. The exhibit has been carried on in a quiet way and the general public naturally has not been attracted to it, but those who raise corn have been paying it considerable attention and it is anticipated that many will be there to listen to the instructive talk.

DEAD IN CALIFORNIA.

Mrs. Ida Atwood Chamberlin, Wife of Former Editor of Daily News.

Mrs. Ida Atwood Chamberlin, wife of J. E. Chamberlin, is dead at Chino, Cal. Like her husband, she was well known in and about Boston. Her husband, who long has been engaged in newspaper editorial work, started the Boston Record on its career. At one time he was connected with the Fall River Herald and for a time before going to Fall River was editor of the Newport Daily News.

Mrs. Chamberlin was born in Bay City, Mich., May 13, 1866, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Atwood. Her father was a writer and an editor in Chicago. Mrs. Chamberlin was gifted musically, and had written considerably for the New York Mail, with the editorial staff of which her husband is connected.

NEW OPERA HOUSE BILL.

"The Lion and the Mouse" to be Shown for the Week-End.

"The Secret of the old Cabinet," the feature picture of the new bill at the Opera House, is rich in military scenes. As a sensation there is the rescue of a child which has fallen over a high cliff, calling for much daring on the part of the young man who does the deed. Then there are a race between motor boats and a wild dash by an automobile, all of which goes to make the picture a stirring one. In addition there will be the Universal program of comedy and tragedy.

For the week-end will be shown "The Lion and the Mouse," taken from the play by that name. By its display on the screen one is able in a few minutes to gather the whole story, without the effort of hours of reading from a book or paying a high price to see the play enacted.

ANOTHER PLEA FOR FAITHFUL NED.

To the Editor of the News:

No money is spared to send committees to other cities, near or far, to learn what is done, and how to do it, in order that Newport may keep up with the times. If, for the sake of economy and to follow precedent, a committee should only go as far as Boston, they could learn that fire horses, also city department horses, are pensioned and cared for properly the rest of their lives. But, as the excursion would cost as much as faithful old Ned would bring into the fire department at auction, I earnestly ask that those in whose power it lies see that Ned is humanely shot, and then submit an ordinance to the Representative Council that all future disabled fire horses be pensioned and cared for in a manner creditable to our boasted progress.

NEWPORT'S MAIL SERVICE.

Morning Distribution to Postoffice Being Made as Early as Possible.

Congressman O'Shaunessy Assured of Best Possible Schedule for Summer Months.

Congressman O'Shaunessy has received from the second assistant Postmaster General a letter which shows that the Postoffice Department is endeavoring to give the people of Newport the earliest possible distribution of mail in the morning, and to secure the best possible facilities for this city not only in the winter but in the summer. The letter, which goes considerably into details regarding the work, is as follows:

Hon. George F. O'Shaunessy, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

My dear Sir: Reference is again made to the letter addressed to you by Mr. M. A. Sullivan, attorney at law, Newport, R. I., enclosing petitions in substance that the railway postal clerk who distributes on the Boston, Providence & New York R. P. O. trains the city mail for Newport be required to accompany such mail from Wickford Junction to Wickford Landing by electric cars, thence to Newport by steamboat, and that the clerk perform city distribution while en route on the steamer.

The mail in question leaves Wickford Junction at 6:10 a. m. and is due at Newport at 7:20 a. m., and that part of the time when the mail is on the steamer is so short that the amount of mail that could be distributed is almost negligible. Instructions have been issued to the clerk on trains 29 and 30 to have the city distribution for Newport completed before the mail is dispatched from the train at Wickford Junction, and, with this done, there would be no distribution to be made on the steamboat and the mail would not be advanced by being accompanied by a clerk.

The question of advancing the mail to Newport has had very careful consideration by the officers of the railway mail service, and under existing train schedules there does not appear to be any way in which such mail can be delivered earlier to the Newport office. The connection is now made direct from train 34 to Newport. This train reaches Wickford Junction at present about 15 minutes later than formerly, which has caused some complaint, but the railroad officials claim that it was necessary to lengthen the schedule of train 34. However, the company has consented to give the superintendent, railway mail service, a further hearing with reference to the schedule of this train before the summer changes are made, which will be in about two months, and you may be assured that every effort will be made to secure the best possible schedule for the postal service.

Very truly yours,

Joseph Stewart,
Second Assistant Postmaster General.

USELESS EXPENSE.

First Warder Would Have Holding of Special Election Prohibited.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Since the recent report of the general treasurer of the state of Rhode Island shows that the members of the General Assembly spend the people's money very easily and lavishly, would it not be well for them to save money occasionally, and is there not an excellent opportunity for some of our local representatives to the General Assembly to save money for the taxpayers of Newport by impressing upon the house judiciary committee that it would be an unwarranted and useless expense to recommend the holding of a special election on their proposed amendments to the city charter.

First Warder.
